

THOUSANDS LEFT HOMELESS IN FIVE STATES BY FLOODS

Property Loss of $10,000,000 in Missouri, Illinois, Kentucky, Kansas and Oklahoma.

TRAFFIC PARALYZED THROUGHOUT REGION

Greatest November Overflow in 50 Years—Levee Breaks Near Quincy (Ill.)—Many Farms Inundated

By the Associated Press.

Damage caused by flood waters in tributaries of the Mississippi River in Missouri, Kansas, Illinois, Oklahoma and Kentucky is now estimated at $10,000,000. Eighteen lives have been lost. Levees of tributaries near Quincy, Ill., have broken permitting the waters to sweep over thousands of acres of corn, wheat and rice on both the Missouri and Illinois sides of the Mississippi. In Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma, where 15 lives have been lost and where property damage of the waters was making possible a survey of the greatest November flood damage these states have ever known.

The Missouri was near flood stage all the way across Missouri, and the inundation of great areas of bottom lands near St. Louis is feared. Smaller streams in the St. Louis territory were choked with waters, and many railroad lines and highways throughout the State were blocked.

The number of homeless ran into the thousands. One thousand were driven from their dwellings in five Kentucky communities.

Three Drowned in Kentucky. The Kentucky and Cumberland rivers still were rising at last reports from the flooded areas. Pineville, Georgetown, Sunshine, Barbourville and Middletown are the Kentucky communities hardest hit by the rising waters. Georgetown and Sunshine are suburbs of Harlan. Near Pineville three employees of the Virginia-Harlan Coal Corporation were swept to death when a tree, borne on the flood's crest, tore away a bridge on which they stood.

The bursting of the Mark levee, which protected the South Fabius Drainage District on the Missouri side of the Mississippi, near Quincy, Ill., permitted the waters to pour over 7000 acres of rich bottom lands and its growing crops. On the Illinois side the earthen levee which has served to confine Bear Creek since 1892, crumbled in four places, flooding 5000 acres in the Lima Drainage District, 20 miles north of Quincy.

The Mississippi River gauge at Quincy last night registered 17.5 feet, the highest mark ever recorded in the half century it has been in use.

Cold Intensifies Sufferings. Cold and snow were following the flood—causing rains in parts of Kansas and Missouri, making necessary still further rehabilitation and relief measures among the thousands of refugees. Public buildings were thrown open in many Kansas communities as headquarters for the flood victims, and local organizations were active in providing aid. The American Legion and Salvation Army were helping.

Train schedules were slowly being returned to normal, although there were many miles of right-of-way where repair crews were at work. Normal train service was predicted by tonight.

Highway damage was particularly heavy in Missouri, running into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Red Cross Directs Relief. Albert Evans, assistant national director of disaster relief for the American Red Cross left St. Louis yesterday for Winfield, Kan., where 3000 persons were reported homeless and property damage was estimated at $500,000.

Five other Red Cross disaster experts were hoped for Eads, Mo., and Ottawa, Kan., Kansas City, Mo., and other strategic points in the flooded areas.

The worst flood in Northeast Missouri for the fall season is half a century was thought to have reached its crisis late yesterday when rivers appeared to be at their crests after overflowing large areas in several counties. Three thousand acres north of Hannibal, Mo., were inundated. The Mississippi River at Hannibal, the highest for this time of year in 60 years, was expected to reach its crest today at about 15 feet. Damage to highways in Kansas and Missouri has been enormous. The loss in Jackson County (Kan.) alone was estimated at $100,000. Many bridges in Eastern Kansas were washed out and many highways were made impassable.

Flood Receding at Ottawa, Kan.; Property Damage Heavy.

By the Associated Press. OTTAWA, Kan., Nov. 20.—The Marais des Cygnes River is receding slowly from its flood height of 37.5 feet.

The rapid rise Saturday night and Sunday spread destruction and suffering and took a toll of at least five lives.

Thousands Flee Before Flood at Telaj, Ky. By the Associated Press. PINEVILLE, Ky., Nov. 20.—Flood waters of the upper Cumberland River were sweeping into Tennessee today after claiming the lives of three persons at Telaj, about 15 miles from here, forcing over 1000 to flee for their lives and causing property damage estimated at over $200,000.

The swollen stream, resulting from excessive rains Saturday and Sunday, swept the countryside of Bell, Harlan and Knox counties in Southeast Kentucky, and when the crest had passed, late last night, the high waters had approached the town of Telaj.

Lawrence Hiles, Melvin Tatro and C. C. Saylor, all residents of Pineville, employed by a coal mining firm, lost their lives when a large tree trunk, floating in midstream, crashed into the flimsy bridge on which they were standing and swept the three and debris many miles downstream. Their bodies have not been recovered.

Hundreds of Pineville residents were forced to abandon their homes and flee to high ground as the waters rushed into homes and damaged personal property.

Salt River Floods Hundreds of Acres Near Shelbyville, Mo. By the Associated Press. SHELBYVILLE, Mo., Nov. 20.—The Salt River flood, at its crest yesterday, inundated hundreds of acres of lowlands. Many families were forced to evacuate their homes.

MISSOURI RIVER IN FLOOD IN COUNTY

The Mississippi River at St. Louis this morning attained a stage of 25.2 feet, a rise of 4.3 feet in 24 hours, with a prediction of a further rise of two feet by tomorrow and a crest of 23 feet, two feet below flood mark, on Thursday. The Missouri River at St. Charles is in flood, with a reading today of 26.2 feet, a rise since yesterday of 1.9 feet, and a predicted crest of 27.5 feet. The flood level there is 25.

While the rising Mississippi will go a little above flood mark just north of St. Louis, it is not expected to cause any material inundation, but the Missouri already has begun to overflow bottoms in St. Charles and St. Louis counties. Much damage has been caused throughout the State by the Missouri's flood, and more is anticipated.

Among the items of heavy loss along the Missouri, below Jefferson City, reported informally to Weather Forecaster Hayes, were the pier platform and three pile-drivers on the new highway bridge at Hannibal. Government barges at the mouth of the Osage River and at least one dike washed away near that point, also other river engineering equipment.

At least 19 days' working time will be lost on the new highway bridge over the Mississippi at

INSPECTOR SAYS VESTRIS WAS IN GOOD CONDITION

Capt. Keane Tells Investigators of Four Days' Examination of Vessel Just Before Its Last Voyage.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Capt. Edward Keane, Department of Commerce Inspector of Hulls, was the first witness today when the United States Steamboat Inspection Service opened its inquiry today into the inspection of the vessel.

Keane, who is 62 years old, holder of a license for sail and steam in the U. S. and a British master's certificate, said the Vestris was in good condition when he examined it.

The examination before Dickerson N. Hoover, Supervising Inspector-General, Thomas J. Padarelli, Assistant United States Attorney, examined the witnesses.

Keane told in detail of going over the Vestris, an annual inspection completed several days before the steamer left on its voyage in what some of the survivors have called an unseaworthy condition.

Coal Ports O. K. He said that he found everything that was his responsibility to inspect in good condition. He mentioned particularly the coal ports and the half doors in the side of the ship and leaves while the ship is at the pier.

Officers of the Vestris have testified at the Federal hearing being conducted by United States Attorney Hoover that water poured into the ship through both the coal ports and the half doors. These officers, First Officer Johnson and Chief Engineer Adams, said that efforts were made to tighten these openings, but it was found impossible to stem the flow of water.

Keane said his inspection of the Vestris covered four days, during which he thoroughly examined lifeboats and their equipment and the life preservers. He declared the 12 lifeboats he had inspected and which were ample to take care of passengers and crew were in first-class condition.

"In the work you were assigned to do on the steamer Vestris did anyone in this office give you the impression that it was to be hastily done?" Hoover asked. "No, sir."

"In examining the steamer did you have ample time?" "We had plenty of time. I was four days on her."

"Was it true you needed more assistance to make a thorough inspection?" "Four days was ample time to do it."

Of the 691 life preservers aboard which he said he examined, Capt. Keane said he had found 63 new ones defective.

Praises Lifeboats. Capt. Keane said food, water, lanterns and flares in the lifeboats conformed to regulations. Some witnesses at the inquiry before United States Commissioner O'Neill testified that flares were defective and that there was no oil in lanterns.

The lifeboats could not have better sustained the banging they were subjected to in the wreck, said Keane, if they had been made of rubber.

Keane said his tests of the lifeboats had showed no defects in the boats themselves or in the falls, by which they are lowered.

"Some witnesses have testified that the boats had holes in them. Did you see any?" asked Mr. Hoover. "No, sir," replied Keane.

"Other witnesses said these holes were old ones, would you have seen them?" "I looked inside and outside of the boats," said Keane. "I saw no holes."

The falls, the witness asserted, were in "A-1" condition—only months old. He said he did not think there were any rafts on the ship and that none had been shown for inspection.

Says He Is a Teetotaler. The presiding officer read a letter dated Nov. 14 and signed "Samuel Lawson." The letter was received by the steamboat inspection service in an envelope on the flap of which was printed "United States Lines." The letter contained charges that the inspection of the Vestris by Capt. Keane and an inspector of boilers, consisted of the inspectors' enjoying a hearty breakfast on the ship and "swilling whisky and beer in the ship's bar."

"The inspectors left in the afternoon," the letter read, "with a certain weakness in their legs and each with a package under his arm."

The letter concluded with the remarks that this was "the kind of murderers" that comprise the personnel of the steamboat inspection service.

"The whole thing is the most outrageous lie I ever heard," Keane said. "I am the fourth generation of my family which has never touched a drop of any stimulant."

Keane was then asked in detail about each specific charge in the letter. He said that neither he nor the other inspector had breakfast on the Vestris, that neither of them had anything, or were offered anything to drink on board and that they did not carry away with them any packages. Then he was asked that in case he and his associates had carried packages which looked as though they might contain bottles of liquor, they would not have been stopped by customs men on the pier.

There were customs men and prohibition men in plain clothes on the pier," he said. "You don't suppose that we would take any chance of being picked up by bootleggers?"

Sorenson Denies Interview. After Capt. Keane, the next witness was Frederick Sorenson, a ship's officer who was a second-class passenger on the Vestris. He categorically denied statements credited to him in the newspapers that he arrived here on a rescue ship in which the blame for the disaster was laid at the door of the Vestris' officers and especially of Capt. Carey, who sank with his ship.

At the suggestion of newspaper men covering the hearing, it was decided to call reporters who interviewed Sorenson as he came ashore. One of them voluntarily appeared and produced his original notes. These notes quote Sorenson as blaming Capt. Carey and his officers for "criminal negligence" for their handling of the lifeboats and for delay in sending out SOS.

After the notes had been read, Sorenson stood by his denial that he had made any criticism except of the occupants of one lifeboat who he said rowed away when he called them to take some women from another overcrowded boat.

It was then decided to call all other reporters who talked with Sorenson at the time of his arrival. An Assistant United States Attorney asked Sorenson if it were true that there is an unwritten code among ship's officers which forbids criticism of each other.

"I do not know of any such code," Sorenson said, "but I certainly would not criticize a fellow man."

Cold Wave Invades South. By the Associated Press. ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 20.—The South generally got its first touch of winter today with freezing temperatures at Memphis, Tenn., and Asheville, N. C., and a drop to 5 at Jacksonville, Fla. The first killing frost of the season and a drop to about 30 degrees was forecast for Atlanta tomorrow, and light to heavy frosts were predicted for Florida.

he noticed the crew were throwing cargo overboard. Some of the passengers and crew were putting on life belts so he got one himself, put it on and stood near the barber shop. This was about 10 o'clock. He stayed there until he saw the crew begin to get down the lifeboats. He said this was between 10:15 and 10:30. He then got into lifeboat No. 5 on the port side. He described the lowering of the boat.

"It stuck on the plates on the ship's side," he said. "When we finally got it down to about 5 feet from the water, we helped the passengers in."

"How many passengers got in?" "Thirty or 40; she was full of passengers."

"When the passengers got in, she was five feet from water?" "Yes."

Life Boat Upset. "How long did the boat stay turned over. I was forced to jump out of the lifeboat into the sea myself."

"What time did you begin to put passengers into that lifeboat?" "Between 11 and 12."

"Do you know why that lifeboat was not lowered all way to water?" "No."

"Who was officer in charge?" "The third mate, I think."

"Is he a survivor?" "I think so."

"Were any of the crew in that boat?" "Several of the native crew, two stewards, a fruit man, the chief steward's man, the laundryman and his wife and the engineer in charge and myself."

"Could the people have gone back up to the ship's deck?" "Yes, there was a rope ladder."

"Did anybody go up?" "No."

"When did you last see the captain?" "The last time I saw the captain he was standing on the side of the boat hanging on to a rail, just before she went over."

"Did you hear him say anything?" "He was shouting, but I couldn't make out what he was saying."

Scott told of being picked up in a motor lifeboat after he had leaped in the sea. There were only half a dozen persons in the boat and the engine was not running. No one, he said, even tried to start the engine. The boat had a capacity of 18 persons. The motor lifeboat was completely equipped, he said, with water, flares, oars and lanterns.

"Where were any lifeboat drills on the Vestris?" Tuttle asked. "Yes, on previous voyages regular drill of lowering and handling boats in the water."

"But there had been no drill on the last voyage?" "No."

FREED OF KILLING HIS STEPFATHER TO SAVE MOTHER

Charles Durbin, 18, Acquitted of Manslaughter by Jury After Deliberating 17 Minutes.

STRUCK MAN ON HEAD WITH HAMMER TWICE

Youth Asserted Joseph Meyer, 44, Knocked Woman Down When She Found Him Drunk.

After deliberating 17 minutes, a jury in Circuit Judge's court today acquitted Charles Durbin of a manslaughter charge which was placed against him last June when he beat his stepfather, Joseph Meyer, 44, to death with a hammer.

The defendant's mother, Mrs. Durbin, who was present in court, wept when she heard the verdict. She said she was proud of her son.

Meyer was found dead in his room at the Hotel Lincoln. He had been struck on the head twice with a hammer.

The jury heard testimony from Durbin, Meyer's neighbors and a doctor who examined the body.

that Brinley, before his death, had drunk home brew on top of lemonade, and implied this was contributory to the former's death.

"Could that combination (home brew and lemonade) cause gas-tritis?" "It might," said Dr. Thompson, "but not a toxic effect."

Dr. Ralph Thompson of St. Louis, who had conducted inquests for the past 20 years, testified as to the post mortem on Brinley's body.

He stated that inflammation existed in the stomach and the kidneys and that he had turned over the viscera to Dr. Harry Bristow, toxicologist and former professor of chemistry at Missouri University, for chemical analysis.

Dr. Thompson said his examination showed no organic disease or infectious malady that would have caused death.

Dr. Bristow testified that he examined chemically the liver and the stomach, and he found arsenic in both organs. He said there was at least one grain of arsenic in the liver. Later, on cross examination, Dr. Bristow said that at least five grains of arsenic, in compound form, must have been administered to the murdered man to cause death.

KINGS-WAY HOTEL PAYROLL OF $3817 TAKEN IN HOLDUP

Mrs. Adele Haburton, Auditor, Accosted by Unarmed Man Half Block From Hostelry.

Mrs. Adele Haburton, auditor of the Kings-Way Hotel, Kingshighway and West Pine boulevard, was held up in front of the hotel and robbed of $3817 in payroll cash at 10:20 a. m. today.

"I obtained the money at the Security National Bank downtown and rode in a bus to Kingshighway and Lindell boulevard," Mrs. Haburton afterward related. "I was walking a block south to the hotel when a well-dressed man about 28 years old stopped me at the mouth of an alley, in the middle of the block."

"Give me that bag," he said, referring to the leather brief case in which I carried the money. He talked roughly. I held tight to the brief case. He said: 'I told you to give me that bag.' With this he snatched it out of my hands and started to run away. In my excitement, I dropped my own purse. He stopped to pick that up and then ran a half block south to Pine and east."

"I wouldn't scream, but I beat my hands together and cried out, 'Get him—get him!'"

The holdup was witnessed by about a dozen hotel guests and passerby who were in the immediate vicinity as well as several persons who were across the street in Forest Park. The driver of a brick truck and the driver of a park motorbus left their vehicles and chased the robber, who threw away the purse in flight and escaped in an automobile which had been parked around the corner, with several men waiting inside with revolvers drawn. The active holdup man displayed no weapon.

fore going to Washington for his inauguration. He has received invitations from a number of Florida cities to visit the state and to inspect the new houses in Miami and elsewhere.

Every honor except that of the presidential flag was paid Mr. Hoover on his embarkation. The Hoover party boarded the barge of Admiral William V. Pratt, commander of the navy, and in chief of the United States fleet, at the San Pedro docks. They were carried two miles across the harbor to the waiting Maryland under escort of navy launches which were filled with cheering officers in full dress.

21-Gun Salute Fired. Rear Admiral Louis M. Gold, Nulton, commander of the battleship division, and other ranking naval officers stood at the gangplank to receive the President-elect. The guns of the Maryland and nine other battleship fired a salute of 21 guns.

On the deck of the battleship the men were lined up at attention. A full guard saluted as Mr. Hoover passed. The band gave four ruffles and a flourish and a boatwain piped the President-elect over the side.

Mr. Hoover spent some time on the promenade and quarter-deck, looking at the Maryland and the other ships in the fleet. He showed great interest in the ship and especially in two submarines carried aboard the vessel.

The President-elect's quarters, which are the Admiral's suite, contain a comprehensive collection of books on South and Central America. In anticipation of the trip, Capt. Victor A. Kimberly stocked Mr. Hoover's rooms with a library of books on the Americas and also general topics. Several of Mr. Hoover's friends apparently had the same idea, for they sent to the Maryland another large collection of books. The library will be for his use of others of the party, as it is the President-elect.

Hoover party before their release in the United States.

Thus far the weather has been delightful, with scarcely any wind and only a gently rolling sea. Hoover is a good sailor. He has crossed the Atlantic and Pacific on many an occasion, but at present is moving into waters unknown to him, since this is his first visit to South America.

The Maryland has set a pace of 15 knots, her usual cruising speed, which will be maintained unless it is necessary to speed up the schedule of visits between Corinto and Valparaiso. The Maryland will remain at the latter port a week after the Hoover party starts by train for Buenos Aires.

Before reaching Corinto, Hoover plans to inspect the ship. As he moves about the craft he always has in the background one of four secret service men who are accompanying him on the voyage. They will remain with him at least until inauguration day.

Mr. Hoover has not yet decided whether he will stay in Florida before going to Washington.

LEBAUDY ESTATE. IN FRANCE DENIED WIDOW AND CHILD

Paris Court Decides Woman Who Killed "Emperor of Sahara" in U. S. Never Was His Legal Wife.

PARIS, Nov. 20.—An echo of the fantastic career of Jacques Lebaudy, self-styled Emperor of Sahara, who was shot dead by Mme. Lebaudy at Westbury, N. Y., in 1919, was heard today when a French tribunal ruled that the former Mme. Lebaudy and her daughter, Jacqueline, were not entitled to share in the Lebaudy estate.

The French tribunal held the reverse of a judgment given by the Nassau County Court in New York State which awarded to Mme. Lebaudy and her daughter all Lebaudy's property in the United States.

The French tribunal ruled that the living together of the pair for several years was not considered a legal marriage in France. Consequently the Court granted the Countess de Fels, a sister, and Robert Lebaudy, brother of the late "Emperor," all titles to French property amounting to several millions of francs. This includes real estate in the vicinity of the Arc de Triomphe and also huge interests in sugar refineries.

Mme. Lebaudy, who was married to Henri Sudreau in Paris in 1922, has been contesting the claim of Countess de Fels in order to establish her daughter's claim to the Lebaudy property in France. The purpose of the suit was to obtain acceptance by French law of a judgment of the Nassau County Court upholding the legality of the Lebaudy marriage on the grounds of "public consent and reputation" and establishing the legal right of Jacqueline to her father's property.

Mrs. Pauline Steiner, 55 years old, 5858A Lotus avenue, collapsed last night in front of 5757 Wabasha avenue and died early today without regaining consciousness.

Selma Lagerlof, 70, Holds Faith in Modern Women

Swedish Author, Winner of Nobel Award, Thinks Freedom Will Enable Her to Reach Ideal of Past.

By the Associated Press. STOCKHOLM, Nov. 20.—Selma Lagerlof, Swedish author and Nobel prize winner, reached the age of 70 today, hopeful that the woman of today would become the glorious woman that "we old people wish."

Miss Lagerlof, whose first work, "Gosta Berling," was translated into English 20 years ago, was asked what she thought of the modern type of woman. Her first answer was a question: "Instead of telling me your opinion regarding the modern type of woman, I should like to ask this: Does there really exist any modern woman type?"

Then she continued: "The type of woman of the past was developed during centuries of constraint and strict supervision. She could when at her best with regard to goodness, tenderness and graceful appearance, be said to have reached almost perfection."

Urges Suspended Judgment. "This type of today, which is now being developed under a far greater liberty, is a queen who is herself responsible for her behavior and her doing. She may be yet only a creation in being. To be just, one ought to let her grow in peace, neither criticizing nor blaming her."

"We old people only wish for her that she may become all the glorious woman that we hoped she would when we provided her with her freedom."

Miss Lagerlof's dearest wish had been fulfilled when she celebrated the seventieth anniversary of her birth. She had regained Mariacka, the ancient home of her family, restored it and made it her home once more.

She was a schoolteacher with a salary of about $255 a year more than 50 years ago when her family was forced to sell Mariacka. She had published only a few verses. "I raised my hands and called Heaven to witness that from that moment my one longing, the object of all my striving, would be to regain the home of my forefathers," she said.

First Book a Prize Winner. "Gosta Berling" was published in part in a weekly paper and won the highest prize in a competition conducted by the paper. The book, which is a collection of stories of the life of her native Vermanland in 1830, was published in Sweden in 1891 and was translated into English in 1893.

In 1895, after the publication of "Ognilga Laenkar" (Invisible Links) she was able to devote herself entirely to writing. The thought of returning to her ancestral home lingered in her heart, and finally she accomplished this desire.

In 1909 Miss Lagerlof won the Nobel prize for literature and five years later she was elected the first woman member of the Swedish Academy.

Asked how she liked to sit in the Swedish Academy, Miss Lagerlof said, "I only took part in a couple of sessions last year and I had nothing to say. I have no influence, but it is very amusing to sit with all these men in the Academy."

Sought Award for Brander. "I was for many years of the opinion that Georg Brander should get the Nobel prize. I found that he deserved it and that it would be an honor for the Nobel prize for him to receive it. But it was all in vain."

Asked what prevented the award to the Danish critic, who died last year, Miss Lagerlof said: "That I cannot say. But you see there were so many Bishops. I do not mean the Archbishop. Dr. Nathan Soderblom. He is a wise man who understood very well the great importance of the works of Georg Brander, although Brander fought religion. Yet Brander's last book, 'The Saga of Jesus I disliked. In this book he was not the old Georg Brander. I am convinced Christ lived on earth.'"

Commissioner Pape said that if the funds to build a concrete stadium on the bowl were not to be obtained from current revenue, he would suggest a bond issue. The stadium would cost about $250,000, it is estimated. Calculations of engineers show that 50,000 spectators could easily be accommodated on the sides of the bowl.

The bowl foundation, as the engineers will construct it, beginning of once, will have a playing field 1050 feet long and 500 feet wide, ample for a polo field, two baseball diamonds, football fields and a quarter-mile track.

The low ground in Forest Park along the River des Peres, between Clayton and Oakland avenues and immediately east of the Mounted District Police Station, is to be filled in with dirt arranged in the form of a huge bowl which can be used as a foundation for a municipal stadium, Park Commissioner Pape announced today.

Designed as a solution of the problem of disposing of dirt excavated from the park in the $11,000,000 River des Peres drainage project, the bowl will be raised and graded at no additional cost to the city. Decision to have the work done was reached by Commissioner Pape and President Kinney of the Board of Public Service following a conference with officials of A. Guthrie & Co., contractors for the lower forest park phase of the drainage work.

Originally the city had planned to use the dirt to form a chain of lagoons across the park from Lindell boulevard to Oakland avenue. This plan will be carried out, except that for the section between Clayton and Oakland avenues there will be the bowl instead of the large lagoon previously projected.

In surveying the work for the stretch south of Clayton road the contractors found that there would be added expense in placing a lagoon there because of the bridge across the River des Peres at Clayton road. The span would have to be underpinned in anticipation of the work and much of the contractor's machinery would have to be dismantled to be carried over, or under, the bridge. The additional cost necessary for completion of the lagoon was estimated at $12,000, so the bowl project was suggested as an alternative.

ter left some medicine, mainly digitalis, he said, and instructed Mrs. Gifford to give the patient copious draughts of water. He said he told Mrs. Gifford to call him if Brinley's condition didn't improve.

Summonsed again to the house that evening he found Brinley almost at the point of death.

"The second time he was very weak, slightly nervous, semiconscious, rational for short periods only," the doctor testified.

"The trouble had progressed?" Whitehill asked. "Almost to the point of death," the witness replied.

Like Arsenical Poisoning.

Whitehill drew forth a detailed description of Brinley's symptoms and established that they were similar to those of arsenical poisoning.

The defense attempted to refute, through questions, that Brinley was a wreck of a man, burned out by alcohol, and that a small dose of arsenic that would not have been fatal to a sounder person, might have killed him.

Booth also sought an admission from Hemperker that Brinley's condition might have been caused by liquor.

"You seen fatal poison cases due to liquor since prohibition went into effect?" Booth asked.

"Yes," Hemperker said.

"Does bad liquor cause gas-tritis?" "It might."

"Was the cause of death given on Brinley's death certificate?" "Acute unknown disease contributory to gastritis—cause unknown."

Booth recalled to Dr. Hemperker

SENTENCED TO DEATH FOR KILLING TEACHER

Chicago Negro Bootblack Convicted of Murder of Miss Jennie Constance.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Death in the electric chair was fixed by a Circuit Court jury last night as David Shanks' punishment for the murder of Miss Jennie Constance.

The trial ended as quickly as the Negro bootblack had admitted slugging Miss Constance, an English teacher at Bradley Polytechnic Institute, Peoria, Ill., on the night of Aug. 14, last. Attorneys waived closing arguments, and the jury's verdict followed in 40 minutes.

Miss Constance, a post-graduate student in Northwestern University summer school, was waylaid, beaten and robbed near the university campus. Shanks' sale of her wrist watch, his only loot, led to his arrest a few days later. He confessed immediately.

Shanks' lawyers had entered a plea of not guilty on the ground that the slayer was insane. The jury, however, voted unanimously that he was sane, although illiterate.

Three Drivers Sent to Workhouse.

Robert L. Shelton of Jefferson Barracks, Arthur Romine, 1512A St. Louis avenue, and John Gerhard, 4531 Shenandoah avenue, were each sentenced to 30 days in the Workhouse and fined $100 in Police Court yesterday for driving while intoxicated.

TWO SISTERS AND AGED MAN FOUND BEATEN TO DEATH

Three Residents of Omaha, Neb., Apparently Had Been Slain With Hatchet by Same Person.

By the Associated Press.

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 20.—Three murders within 24 hours, that of two women and an aged man, apparently with a hatchet, followed by the wounding of another man and his wife, started police today on a manhunt. Similarity of the crimes, the uniform brutality manifest, convinced officers that the man they sought was mad; a "fiend, a crazy man," was the way Police Inspector Danbaum classified him.

The dead: Mrs. Walter Rosso, a 21-year-old mother of three children, her sister, Greta Brown, 18, and J. W. Blackman, 70-year-old expressman.

Victims Attacked as They Slept. Harold Stribling, 23 years old, former high school football star, and his wife were attacked early today as they slept.

The assailant entered the Stribling home at 3 o'clock, beat in Stribling's head after a struggle, then turned on the lights, washed his hands and asked Mrs. Stribling to see the baby. He stood over its crib for several minutes, then forced Mrs. Stribling to go with him to the East Omaha Swamps, where she finally escaped after three hours. Stribling, doctors said, probably will die, and his wife is in a hospital, seriously beaten and may lose the sight of one eye.

Blackman was murdered as he slept early Sunday morning. His son, Cecil, found the body, covered with a comforter. A stained hatchet and a shoe were found in a woodpile behind the Blackman home.

The blunt side of the hatchet apparently was used in the Blackman killing. In the case of the two young women, however, the slayer employed the sharpened edge. When Walter Rosso, husband of the slain mother, returned from his milk route yesterday afternoon, he found the bodies.

He found his wife's body in a bed downstairs, covered by a comforter, and bearing hatchet marks.

Baby and Child Unharmed. In a crib beside the bed were Rosso's nine-month-old baby and 3-year-old son, asleep and unharmed.

Upstairs Rosso found his sister-in-law's body, covered over with a comforter and bearing the same hatchet marks.

The clothing had been stripped from both women.

The Blackman and Rosso homes are in widely separated parts of the city, but police attached significance to the fact that a stub line railroad runs within a few blocks of both homes, and that trains operating over the line during the night may have provided transportation for the murderer.

Police today arrested the first suspect. He was a Negro, 37 years old, and resembled the description given by Mrs. Stribling of her assailant.

Robbery Probable Motive.

In both homes there were indications that robbery may have been the motive. At Blackman's a desk was ransacked, papers were scattered about, and a sum of money, thought to have been less than $25, was missing. At the Rosso's a state of similar disorder was found, although nothing of value had been taken.

Cecil Blackman, son of the dead man, was held pending the inquest today. The son, 24 years old, said he returned home Sunday morning after spending the night away from his home.

Mrs. Rosso and her sister, who lived with her, were daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Brown, farmers of Weeping Water, Neb., and granddaughters of Charles Philpot, president of the First National Bank of Weeping Water.

14 ALDERMEN AND NOLTE TO SEEK RE-NOMINATIONS

Members of Board From Odd-Numbered Wards
Expect to Be Re-Elected Next April.

Comptroller Nolte and the 14 Aldermen from the odd-numbered wards will be candidates for re-nomination in the primaries next March, with the expectation of being returned to their offices in the majority election in April.

Nolte has told friends he will be a candidate for the office in which he has already served three four-year terms. In his last two races he has encountered virtually no opposition. He has the friendship of both the Miller and Kiel-Koeln factions in the Republican machine, and a good record in office has always gained for him a strong following among the independent voters.

The Aldermen from the odd-numbered wards, all of whom are to file, are: First, Edward L. Kuhs, real estate and automobile dealer.

Third, William F. Niederluecke, a grocer.

Fifth, Edward W. Wiehe, who is in the oil business.

Seventh, Henry Wander, a sign painter.

Ninth, Andrew Koetker, real estate salesman.

Eleventh, John Felt, a retired blacksmith.

Thirteenth, John Neu Jr., an attorney.

Fifteenth, Henry P. Riefling, automobile dealer.

Seventeenth, Thomas S. Watts, oil salesman.

Nineteenth, August H. Niederluecke, oil salesman.

Twenty-first, William J. Studd, insurance broker.

Twenty-third, Clinton E. Udell, insurance broker.

Twenty-fifth, Sylvester Nangle, oil salesman.

Twenty-seventh, Samuel L. Winner, real estate salesman.

Opposition in Committee.

Aldermen are elected by the vote of the city at large and not by the vote of their own particular wards, so that one or two of the incumbents who may not have the support of their own ward committeemen will not necessarily fail of nomination because of that fact.

Those who may not have the support of their committeemen are Wander, who has twice won the nomination against the opposition of William H. Huble, the committeeman from the Seventh Ward; Riefling, who backed Fred C. Delporte in his unsuccessful race against W. G. Kaysing to be committeeman for the Fifteenth Ward, and Studd, who did not support the present Twenty-first Ward committeeman, F. W. Evers, for election.

The President of the Board of Aldermen, Walter J. G. Neun, and the Aldermen from the even-numbered wards, were elected two years ago for four-year terms.

Neun May Seek Majority.

There is a possibility in the coming race, however, that Neun may run for the Republican majority nomination. It is generally understood that he will be a candidate if Mayor Kiel decides not to run. Kiel is now sounding out political sentiment before making his announcement. The most formidable contender so far announced to make the race is Mayor Miller, who likes his job and has said he is going to try to fill it for four years more.

FORMER MILL HAND'S $200,000 SUIT OVER PATENT TO TRIAL

John C. Scrivner Says American Car Co. Used Rivet Heater, but Paid Him Nothing.

The trial of a suit for $200,000 which John C. Scrivner, a former rolling mill hand, brought against the American Car and Foundry Co. for alleged breach of contract covering the use of a rivet heater, which Scrivner says he invented, went to trial before a jury in Circuit Judge Hamilton's court today. Scrivner, who is 54 years old, now is a stock promoter at Camden, N. J. In 1908 he worked in the Madison (Ill.) plant of the American Car and Foundry Co. He subsequently went in the grocery business in Granite City, but found time to patent improvements on a hydrocarbon furnace used in the car company's plant to heat rivets.

Scrivner's attorney, H. C. Cox, told the jury that he would show that the company, through the late Robert Fogelman, general superintendent of the Madison plant, agreed in 1911 to use the heater for 13 years and to pay Scrivner $200,000 at the expiration of that time. Cox said he also would prove that Scrivner's patent was used in the various American Car Co. plants, resulting in a saving of $1000 a day through conservation of fuel oil during the period before electric rivet heaters were introduced, in 1923. Cox said his client never received any money from the company.

Funds Lacking for Traffic Signal.

The automatic traffic signal at Washington boulevard and Kingshighway, which was removed Nov. 8 after an auto driver had wrecked it, has not been replaced, because the city Street Department lacks funds to erect a new one, Reymann Hoffman, city traffic engineer, said today. However, "stop" signs have been erected to compel motorists to halt before crossing the intersection.

VESTRIS INQUIRY FARCE, LONDON PAPER ASSERTS

Correspondent of Daily News Arraigns U. S. District Attorney as Tyrant.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

(Copyright, 1928, by the Press and Publisher Publishing Co., the New York World and Post-Dispatch.)

LONDON, Nov. 20.—United States District Attorney Tuttle's method of conducting the Vestris inquiry in New York was the subject of bitter attacks yesterday in the London Daily News, Liberal newspaper, traditionally moderate and friendly to the United States.

"Tyranny of Mr. Tuttle" and "Vestris Inquiry Farce" are the headlines over a three-column arraignment of the United States District Attorney by Wilson Midgely, the newspaper's New York correspondent.

Midgely cables his opinion that "after carefully watching the inquiry the British public should be warned of its nature and methods. It is a trial by a picture of newspaper stunts, sensation and scandal."

The ensuing analysis of Tuttle's conduct of the case makes it appear as uncivilized persecution.

Tuttle's manner with witnesses is always that of a prosecuting attorney. He shouts at them, accuses them of lying, and when he thinks he has scored a point, grins in triumph.

Confuses Witnesses.

The attack goes on to say that no steps have been taken to secure the presence of either American or British assessors (counsel), and that as a result Tuttle becomes confused and confuses his witness. There follows a lengthy recital of such alleged confusions and then Midgely comments:

"Added to Mr. Tuttle's accent—he always says 'foist' for 'first'—this confuses men who have recently gone through harrowing experiences. They are left entirely unprotected from the onslaughts of a man who conducts himself as if he were committed to find someone guilty. Neither officers nor owners are entitled to be represented, so there is no cross-examination to clear up any doubtful points. The results of such proceedings should be taken for what they are, attempts to get the maximum evidence of guilt."

The correspondent then writes that Tuttle admits that the investigation has no legal standing, adding "for the name of America's national dignity some higher authority ought to protect the owners and their men from such proceedings."

Result of Inquiry.
The entire outcome of the inquiry, as Midgely sees it, will be that "the newspapers will have their sensational tales of horror unchecked and without criticism, and rumors of the vilest kind will have spread over the country. Mr. Tuttle will have had his day in the limelight and the grand jury may be expected conveniently to bury any inconvenient remains in inactivity. Mr. Tuttle's farce ought to be completely ignored and England should have an independent inquiry on lines more natural to our people."

Good Neighbor Pact in Palestine.

By the Associated Press.
JERUSALEM, Nov. 20 (Jewish Telegraphic Agency).—"Bon voisinage" (good neighbors) treaty between Trans-Jordan and the surrounding territories under the French mandate, was signed yesterday by H. C. Luke, acting High Commissioner, on behalf of Trans-Jordan. According to the treaty all disputes will be settled by a mixed court. The parties also will establish an arbitration commission to settle conflicts between warring factions.

ENLOE BOARD RAN MISSOURI PRISON $600,000 IN HOLE

Present Administration Has Cut Bills From $1,001,647 but Must Seek Additional Funds.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 20.—The State Penal Board will have to ask the 1929 Legislature for a deficiency appropriation to pay a deficit of approximately $600,000, incurred in operation of the Missouri Penitentiary during the biennial period of 1927-28, the board announced today in making public a financial statement of the condition of the prison on last Oct. 31.

While this deficit is the largest in the history of the penitentiary, it represents considerable improvement over the condition of the prison when the present board took charge in September, 1927, following a reorganization—the result of a State Senate investigation—that retired the former board, headed by Dr. Cortez F. Enloe of Jefferson City.

The Enloe board went out in September, 1927, leaving $1,001,647 in unpaid bills outstanding, and the prison was in such financial straits that it was not in a position to reduce the indebtedness. This large debt had been piled up in the first nine months of the 1927-28 biennial period.

Even Worse Than in 1925.
This was an even worse condition than at the end of the first biennial period of the Baker administration, 1925 and 1926. In those two years the operation of the prison by the Enloe board resulted in depletion of a surplus of $480,000 built up by a previous administration, and in addition the board had a deficit of $100,000, which the Legislature had to appropriate funds to pay.

The present board, headed by A. H. Harrison of Steelville, has reduced the outstanding indebtedness by $281,967 through economies in operation, and the prison is about breaking even on current operations. The outstanding bills on Oct. 31 totaled $719,680.

The reduction in debt was accomplished by dropping 60 employees from the large force built up by the former board, reducing the salaries of other employees, canceling unprofitable prison manufacturing contracts inherited from the former board, increasing prices on other contracts to a level that would enable the State to make a profit, purchasing all supplies for the prison on competitive bids, and other economies.

These economies enabled the board to reduce the daily per capita cost for each convict from $1.01, the average during the first nine months of this biennial period, to 82 cents, which has been the average for the last 12 months. This covers food, clothing, housing, and guarding.

The board now is purchasing food supplies for quarterly periods and inviting bids from a large number of wholesalers. One of the charges which the Senate Investigating Committee held was substantiated against the former board was purchasing of supplies without competitive bids, and favoritism and extravagance in purchasing.

Two Men Chiefly Responsible.
The improvement in the financial condition of the prison largely has been due to the work of A. H. Harrison, Director of Penal Institutions, and Industrial Commissioner John I. Burnett, who has charge of the prison factories. Both came to the board in the reorganization. Both men have worked long hours at the prison and chiefly are responsible for the economies in effect. Harrison is a Republican and Burnett a Democrat.

As head of the industries, Burnett has placed the prison factories on a much better financial basis. When the new board took charge, the industrial department had a margin of only $18,650 in bills receivable over bills payable. The department, as of Oct. 31, had a margin of $308,659 in bills receivable over its bills payable. The department has been placed on a paying basis and has been a factor in reduction of the bills of the entire prison.

Burnett was a member of the Prison Board early in the Baker administration, but resigned. His resignation was declared due to interference by Enloe in management of the industries.

The prison farms have been placed on a profitable basis by Frank B. Jones, Republican, of Stotts City, who is Farm Commissioner. Most of the products now are being utilized by the prison commissary. In contrast with a former policy of selling them and then having to buy similar supplies for the commissary. Other members of the board, who have less part in financial management of the prison, are Parole Commissioner T. S. Mosby, Democrat, and Warden Leslie Rudolph, Republican.

A small deficit item, which must be handled by the Legislature separately from the $600,000, involves about $8000 in bills for supplies purchased by the Enloe Board in 1925 and 1926, but which were not shown on the books at the end of that biennial period. Under the law, such bills cannot be carried over into another biennial period, and the creditors must ask the Legislature for relief.

A YEAR OF PROGRESS

IT HAS been just a year since the new Ford was introduced. At this first anniversary, it is interesting to review the record of the months just passed and see what has been accomplished.

Since December 2, 1927, nearly 750,000 new Ford cars have been built. Production has been gradually increased from a few hundred a day to 6000 a day. We expect to make 2,000,000 automobiles in 1929.

These are impressive figures. But they are only that. Figures of themselves are unimportant.

The big thing is that the new Ford has delivered a service beyond all expectations. The promise of a year ago is now an accomplished fact.

New Ford is the expression of an ideal

Our policy has always been to regard ourselves as charged with making the best automobile it is possible to make at a low price. That is our mission. We have done it for more than twenty years. The public expects us to keep on doing it.

That obligation includes good design as well as good materials. We hold it our duty to permit nothing to stand in the way of progress, yet we do not make changes simply for the sake of making them. First, it must be demonstrated that what seems like an improvement in theory is an improvement in practice.

THE new Ford has made a high place for itself because it is built on sound principles. There is nothing of an experiment about it.

The whole effort has been toward simplicity—to give you outstanding service with as little machinery as possible. That is where experience counts. Built into the new Ford is everything we have learned in the making of fifteen million automobiles.

The motor has made a remarkable record

Take the motor. It has made a remarkable record because it combines every essential feature of good performance—power, acceleration, smoothness, speed, reliability, economy and long life.

Not just acceleration. Not just smoothness. Not just speed. But the most of all of these features that can be built into a low-priced car without cutting corners or sacrificing quality anywhere along the line.

We were building more than a motor when we did this. We were fulfilling the public's trust in us to make the best selection for their use. Had any other type been better, we would have chosen that.

Value of simplicity shown in performance

Daily, in the performance of the new Ford, you can see the value of its sound simplicity of design, its balance, the care with which it is made, and the quality that has been put into it.

It will do 55 to 65 miles an hour, which is fast enough for anyone. You know how quickly it accelerates. You have seen how it climbs the hills on high. If you drive a new Ford you know its economy of operation and low cost of up-keep.

"The new Ford car embodies the best results of our experience in making 15,000,000 automobiles. We consider it our most important contribution to the progress and prosperity of the country, and to the daily welfare of millions of people."

Henry Ford

electric welding that makes it such a strong and sturdy car.

In a word, the quality of the new Ford goes clear through. Nothing has been done for show. No one part has been given undue prominence at the expense of another.

Constantly making a better automobile

The new Ford was a good car when it was first introduced. We made sure of that before we asked you to buy it. It is a better car today.

Constantly we are finding new and better ways of doing things. As soon as we are sure of them we put them into the car. There is no such thing as a yearly model. Why should there be? As we make improvements, they are so planned that owners of previously built cars may take immediate advantage of them.

EVERYTHING that has been done has been done with one purpose—to bring the benefits of modern, economical transportation to all the people.

Our mission is to make the best automobile that can be made to sell at a low price. In ever-increasing measure, the new Ford is the expression of that ideal.

From every part of the world come reports of its reliability and endurance. Many of the new Fords have been driven 50,000 miles in the past year. Some more than 100,000 miles. There is no telling how far they will go. The average life of the Model T was seven years. We believe this new car will do even better.

The engine is the heart of the motor car, of course. Yet there are other features almost as important. We refer particularly to the safety of the fully enclosed six-brake system of the new Ford. To its really remarkable smoothness and stability at all speeds and its easy-riding comfort. To the beauty of its lines and colors. To the ease of control. To the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield. To the

New Altimeter for Planes Utilizes Radio Squeal, Echo From Earth Telling Height

Dr. E. F. W. Alexanderson Describes Device
 Before National Academy of Sciences—Magnet Compass Explained.

Schenectady, N. Y., Nov. 20.—A new altimeter for airplanes, which, in reality, is a depth finding device that shows how much air is between the flyer and the solid ground, was described here yesterday before the autumn meeting of the National Academy of Sciences. Dr. E. F. W. Alexanderson, consulting engineer of the General Electric Co., has been working on its development in conjunction with the Army Air Corps engineers of Wright Field, Dayton, O.

At the same time a recently developed magnet compass, which weighs only two pounds but is expected to prove more accurate and trustworthy than the much heavier earth inductor compass, was explained by Dr. J. D. Tear of the General Electric Laboratories, who has been carrying on tests for perfection of the instrument.

The altimeter is actuated by reflected radio waves originating in a set on the airplane and returned to it as an echo from the ground. So far as is known it turns to practical use for the first time in radio history the squeal that is so familiar to car-phone fans unfortunate enough to have their sets in the vicinity of someone who is overworking a regenerative receiver.

Cycles of Tone Counted.
 Dr. Alexanderson discovered in a long series of experiments last summer at Wright Field that every time the airplane changed altitude by half a wave length the distinctive whistling note of the oscillating receiver went through a complete tone cycle from a low pitch to a high pitch and back again to low. By counting the cycles of the tone he found it easy to determine his altitude, the measuring stick being one half the wave length of the antenna oscillator.

In the first tests, blindfolded and using head phones, he found himself able to determine his height from the ground with complete accuracy up to 1600 feet. Similar results later were obtained up to 4000 feet.

Dr. Alexanderson said: "This principle may be best applied for a probable further development by the use of two wave lengths either alternately or simultaneously. We may, for instance, use a key by which the wave can be shifted from 100 meters to 92 meters. Twelve waves of 100 meters will occupy the same distance as 13 waves of 92 meters. Thus if the corresponding wave lines of the graphic record are in phase the aviator concludes that his altitude is 600 meters (2000 feet). If the wave lines are of opposite phase, his altitude is either 1000 feet or 3000 feet.

Suggests Using Antennas.
 "Another suggestion is to use two short antennas mounted permanently on the plane.

"Airmen have long sought a device that would tell them their height above the terrain over which they are flying in spite of fog or darkness, and many lives, particularly in the air mail service, would have been saved by such a device. The standard altimeter in present use on airplanes is merely an aneroid barometer which is set to zero at the beginning of a flight shows the height above the starting point only and does not take into account either mountains that may be encountered or changes in atmospheric pressure that may render its indications false."

Dr. Tear's magnet compass is the essence of simplicity, consisting of a permalloy bar suspended from a pendulum, so as to remain always in a horizontal position and having with it an armature that is rotated at 1200 revolutions a minute.

Dr. Harlow Shapley, professor of astronomy at Harvard, speaking on "The Center of the Universe," disclosed that Harvard's research of the skies within the last year had resulted in the discovery of 1000 new variable stars, an appreciable contribution in this field, inasmuch as only about 5000 previously had been known and charted.

Of this number, he said, approximately 75 should be credited to Miss Henrietta Swope, daughter of Gerard Swope, president of the General Electric Co., and one of his students.

The most valuable work being done, he said, is at the Boyden station, Harvard College, Bloomington, Orange Free State, South Africa, where thousands of celestial photographs have been taken. Speaking of the galaxy of stars and planets and nebulae of which the earth is such a small part, Dr. Shapley expressed confidence that he and his associates had found its center in the Milky way, at a distance of about 47,000 light years, although it is hidden by one of the most serious dark clouds which hang in the heavens. Other galaxies lie beyond the earth's particular galaxy. Each has a center, he said, and there must be a general center around which all revolve.

Dr. Ketterling and his assistants in the General Motors laboratories, by studying the molecules of motor fuels, have learned that only 23 per cent of those which make up gasoline are responsible for the detonations, or knocks, in combustion chambers. That condition is holding up the development of engines capable of higher compression and more economical operation than those now in use, he explained, as a way of being sought to get rid of the harmful molecules or change them into the more valuable variety.

560 OFFSTAGE CUES IN NEW PLAY BY CHANNING POLLOCK

Stage Hands Must Shovel "Money," Operate Ticker and Produce All Manner of Noises.

By the Associated Press.
 YORK, Nov. 20.—So numerous are the offstage effects in Channing Pollock's new play, "Mr. Moneybags," that there are 560 cues to be heeded by hands and operators in the wings. Tickers, offstage voice, mechanical music and similar duns must be heard repeatedly; money must be shoveled, in one scene, down a chute to the stage, and sets must be shifted quickly and on signal. It is said the bill for stage hands during New York and Philadelphia rehearsals ran to $12,000.

"And yet producers today aren't called upon to provide a lot of properties that were in demand in theaters of 400 years ago. T. H. Vail Motter relates, in his current study, "The School Drama in England," that items required for the performance of a play by Westminster school children in 1564 included frankincense to perfume the auditorium, candy for the child players and "battered beer for ye children being horses," not to mention wages laid out for "the men which brought same thundered."

Remove powder and rouge each night with soap made of precious beauty oils

NOTHING equals women's natural beauty or the radiance of girlhood's glowing freshness.

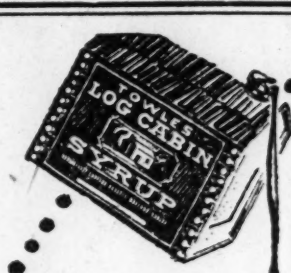

Today, at forty women are not as old-looking as they were a few years back. And complexions once despaired of are regaining former loveliness.

The secret is a simple home beauty treatment. Follow it night and morning and your skin will keep its natural loveliness. Follow these directions:

First, work up a lather of the palm and olive oils embodied in Palmolive Soap. Massage them into the skin with your two hands until they penetrate and gently cleanse the pores of powder, rouge and dirt. Then rinse, first with warm water, then with cold. Do this daily without fail.

Women by the thousands will tell you it is the best way they know to prevent blackheads, blemishes, enlarged pores and common skin faults.

Note the natural glow of girlhood days that follows its use. Use only Palmolive—a soap made for one purpose—to safeguard good complexions. 10 cents, every where. Colgate-Palmolive-Pet. Co., Chicago, Ill.

Nation-Wide-Factory-Perfected-Standardized SERVICE

Assures Continuous Owner Satisfaction Everywhere

This card, sent by the factory to every Cadillac and La Salle owner, commands authorized, standardized Cadillac service everywhere—service that is always efficient, prompt and at prices limited by the factory.

THE Cadillac Motor Car Company believes that to build the best car that long experience, engineering skill and great resources can produce is only the beginning of its obligation to the public.

Keeping Owners Satisfied

It is keenly aware of the fact that the right kind of service is just as important as the right kind of automobile.

The owner is entitled to a mode of transportation that will at all times prove dependable, comfortable, luxurious and free from annoying trouble.

But "service" has become a sadly abused term and owners all too frequently learn that it is a vague, indefinite something that means little. Cadillac, therefore, in accepting its obligation, has adopted and its dealers operate under a service Plan and Policy that is clearly defined and strictly maintained.

It is nation-wide, factory-planned, factory supervised and completely standardized in character and quality and assures owners courteous, prompt, efficient, high-grade service at uniformly fair prices.

358 Authorized Service Stations

To give satisfaction, service must be conveniently available. Today 358 official Cadillac service stations blanket the country. Cadillac and La Salle owners are never far from the kind of service to which they are entitled.

To give satisfaction, service must also be rendered by men who are more than good motor car mechanics. They must know the car they serve and standards that govern its manufacture.

The men who man Cadillac-La Salle service stations are all carefully trained by representatives of the Cadillac factory and by the factory's service education plan.

Special tools, designed to perform service work better and in less time, are part of their equipment. More accurate workmanship—faster work—better work results.

Nor is this all. A special crew of factory service men is constantly in the field, traveling from station to station to inspect, instruct and advise.

Thus the Cadillac or La Salle owner, by simply presenting the Service Card given him by the factory on purchase of his car, receives the same efficient service under factory regulation and at prices limited by the factory, wherever he may be. What is the result?

More than 60 per cent of the Cadillacs sold each year are sold to Cadillac owners. Approximately another 20 per cent are delivered to friends of owners through their personal recommendation.

Obviously the answer to this is: Cadillac-La Salle service makes satisfied owners.

La Salle is now priced from $2295 to $2875—Cadillac from $3295 up—all prices f.o.b. Detroit. Cadillac-La Salle dealers welcome business on the General Motors Deferred Payment Plan. It is a banking service. Your present car accepted at its full market value. Pay the balance out of income

CHINESE QUEUE HAVEN INVADDED BY BARBERS

Soldiers Clipping Braids on Island Which Had Escaped Shears.

By the Associated Press.
SHANGHAI, China, Nov. 20.—A campaign has opened on the Chinese of Hailang Island who persist in wearing queues.

Before the revolution, which began in 1911, a Chinese without a queue was a rare sight. In Republican China a queue came to be looked upon as a symbol of the empire and the long braids of hair were forbidden. Queues by the million were chopped off, and not a few heads met the same fate if the owners objected too strenuously to losing their queues.

But Hailang Island, off the Central China coast, escaped the attentions of the Government barbers and for 17 years has afforded a haven where wearers of queues could live in comparative safety. But the Nationalists, although upsetting policies of predecessors right and left, have retained the hostility toward queues. As a result soldiers have been commissioned as barbers and ordered to enforce capillary conformity on the men of Hailang.

The harvest of queues is under way on Hailang and is scheduled to continue until there are no more queues to cut. Thousands of queues have gone under the shears and thousands more await the same fate. The Nationalist agents lie in wait for their quarry. They remain in villages, and as the rural folk come to town they are arrested, shorn of their queues, forced to pay a small sum for the process and then turned loose and told to go back to their farms or fishing boats and become better Nationalists.

Most of the men of Hailang are fishermen. Their queues help them keep on their hats while fishing off the windy coast, the strand of hair being used as a rope with which to tie on the hat. The islanders have registered no feeling of personal indignity at being shorn of their queues but all regret the loss of a useful article.

ARRESTED WITH CITY MATERIAL

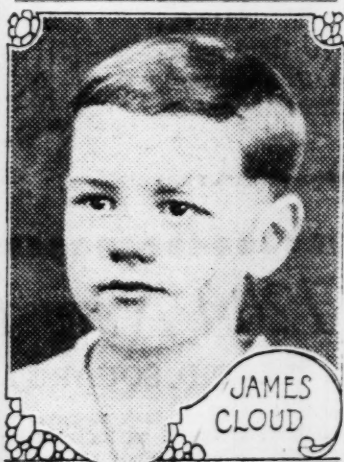

Two Men Found Loading Paving Blocks at Municipal Yard.

Two men were arrested yesterday afternoon at the Street Department material yard, Sixth and Papin streets, when police, summoned by a watchman, found them loading granite paving blocks into a truck.

When questioned, one of the men said he planned to use the blocks to build a walk at his home. The men explained, according to police, that they did not believe the blocks were of any further use to the city. They were released on bond pending application for warrants.

In Jail for Post-Midnight Radio.
EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 20.—The first arrest for turning on the radio after midnight in Evanston was made early today, when police took Mrs. Elizabeth Wood into custody. Mrs. Wood slapped Policewoman Georgianna Juul, who arrested her. The arrest was made under a recently enacted ordinance.

Missouri Boy Needed Help

James Cloud, 823 Madison St., St. Louis, is a "regular fellow," active in sports and at the top in his class at school. To look at him now, you'd think he never had a day's sickness but his mother says: "James was a bottle baby and we found his stomach and bowels were weak. He kept suffering from constipation. Nothing he ate agreed with him. He was fretful, feverish and puny."

"My sister-in-law got us to give him California Fig Syrup, and his condition improved quickly. His constipation and biliousness stopped and he has had no more trouble of that kind. I have since used California Fig Syrup with all my children for colds and upset spells. They like it because it tastes so good, and I like it because it helps them so wonderfully."

California Fig Syrup has been the trusted standby of mothers for over 50 years. Leading physicians recommend it. It is purely vegetable and works with Nature to regulate, tone and strengthen the stomach and bowels of children so they get full nourishment from their food and waste is eliminated in a normal way.

Four million bottles used a year shows how mothers depend on it. Always look for the word "California" on the carton to be sure of getting the genuine.

PROPOSES TO REROUTE FOUR STREET CAR LINES

Public Service Co. Wishes to Abandon 2 1-2 Linear Miles of Track.

Plans for new and more direct routes for the Bellefontaine, Tower Grove, 1st and Compton lines, and for the tearing up of tracks now used by those lines, were filed yesterday with the State Public Service Commission. The company asks permission to abandon about 2 1/2 linear miles of the routes named, or nearly five miles of track.

It proposes to use the South Jefferson avenue tracks for the Bellefontaine cars which would run west from the downtown district to Jefferson on one of the present east and west lines, and would then proceed on Jefferson to Chipewa street, and west on that street to California avenue, where they would return to the present route south.

The Tower Grove line, it is proposed, shall take a more direct route on Gravois avenue, eliminating the present turns on California and Geyer avenues. The tracks on California, between Chipewa street and Geyer avenue, about 1.8 mile, would be torn up.

The Compton line would be rerouted to run over Twelfth street and Lafayette avenue. This would require a new track on Lafayette between Eighteenth street and Mississippi avenue. The tracks on Paris avenue, between St. Anne and Mississippi avenues, would be removed.

By straightening the crooked Lee route in North St. Louis, the tracks on Salisbury street between Twentieth and Twenty-fifth streets would be abandoned. It is proposed also to tear up tracks on Prairie avenue, between North Market and Hebert streets, not now in use. A previous application for abandonment of the Vandeventer line, north of Market street, and replacement of the present service with busses, is now on file with the Commission.

SEEKS 10-CT. FARE ON KANSAS CITY STREET CAR LINES

Sister Corporation of St.
Louis Company Petitions Council After Raising
Bus Rate to 12 1-2 Cts.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 20.—
The Kansas City Public Service Co., sister corporation of the St. Louis Public Service Co., under the control of J. K. Newman and associated banking interests, has asked the City Council to approve its petition for a straight 10-cent fare, to replace the present 8-cent, two tokens for 15, rate on all the local street car lines.

The Council received the company's petition last night and filed it, an action indicating that it will not be approved. The State Public Service Commission has final authority over the rates, and the company can appeal to the commission regardless of the Council's attitude.

Street car fares were not increased when the Newman control began, but the bus lines, controlled by the street car company, have increased their fares from 10 to 12 1/2 cents, except for some of the shorter routes. Double-deck busses are run on some of the less hilly routes.

Bus patronage has not been heavy, and street car business has shown a decrease, despite improvements made in the service by the present management. Increased use of private automobiles is the chief cause of the decline.

The element of competition which exists in St. Louis, between the street car company and a separately owned bus line with a 10-cent fare, is not present in Kansas City.

In its communication to the Council, the Public Service Co.
stated that it figured on a loss of 15 per cent of the present number of passengers, if the increase in fare should be made. It said, however, that the higher fare was necessary for maintenance of the property, and for proper treatment of employees.

Conditional on the higher fare,
the company promises to put in service cars of modern type, costing $15,000 each; to extend and improve its service; to improve its equipment; to increase wages three cents an hour, a total addition of $180,000 a year to the pay roll; and to put $160,000 a year
into the employees' pension fund, the employees to contribute a like amount.

TERMINAL OPPOSED
PERMIT FOR RIVAL

Commission Points Out That Railroad Deck
Never Used, Would Facilitate Shipping Service.

By CHARLES G. ROSS,
Chief Washington Correspondent
of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The Interstate Commerce Commission
today granted to the Manufactuers' Railway Co., over the protest of the Terminal Railroad Association, the right to use certain trackage made available to the company by the City of St. Louis, including the tracks over the Municipal Bridge and its approaches.

The commission found that "for future public convenience and necessity" required the granting of the Manufacturers' application, which had the support of the City of St.
Louis, the Business Men's Association of South St. Louis and the St.
Louis Shippers' Conference Association. Hearings on the application were held last June.

Permission to use the tracks in question was made conditional upon the reaching of an agreement between Manufacturers' Railway and the city regarding the compensation to be paid by the railroad to the city and upon the approval of this agreement by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Tracks Affected by Decision.
The trackage involved in the commission's order is as follows:
1—Tracks No. 9 and No. 10, extending between Barton and Lesperance streets, in the Lesperance street yard of the St. Louis Transfer Railway Co., owned by the city of St. Louis and operated under lease by the Terminal Railroad Association of St. Louis.

2—The southern approach to the St. Louis Municipal Bridge, now under construction, which when completed will have its southern terminus in connection with track
No. 9 and No. 10 above mentioned.

3—The St. Louis Municipal Bridge and the eastern approach thereto, owned by the City of St.
Louis and now available to apply and other carriers for joint use.

The municipal bridge over the Mississippi River has a double track railway connecting at the eastern end with the Alton & Southern road, which constitutes an outer belt line in East St. Louis and connects with all the railroads entering that city. It is the plan of the Manufacturers' Railway to use the Municipal Bridge and its eastern and southern approaches in connecting with the Alton & Southern, and thereby it hopes to obtain a large increase in traffic.

Connects With O'Fallon Line.
Among the roads with which the Alton & Southern connects is the St. Louis & O'Fallon, which extends eastward from East St. Louis to O'Fallon, Ill., about nine miles.
This road is controlled by the same interests and has the same executive and operating officers as the Manufacturers' Railway. Its principal track is in coal from mines owned by the Adolphus Busch estate.

The railroad deck of the Municipal Bridge never has been used, although, as pointed out by the Interstate Commerce Commission in its decision, it was built largely with the object of providing means of competition with the Terminal Association in terminal and interchange traffic.

Concerning the Terminal Association, the commission says: "The latter has had for many years a practical monopoly of the interchange switching in the St. Louis East St. Louis district and there-has apparently been considerable dissatisfaction with its service. The applicant asserts that if it is granted the authority sought it will able, in conjunction with the Alton & Southern, to do considerable the interchange switching now done by the Terminal, in a much more expeditious and satisfactory manner, because it will operate on much shorter lines than those used by the Terminal.

Terminal Opposes Plan.
The latter, opposing the application, claims that there is no need for operation by the Manufactuers' over the bridge and its approaches, that the interchange and terminal service is now efficiently performed by the Terminal and that operation by the applicant over the Municipal Bridge would be an unnecessary and uneconomical duplication of facilities. It asserts that what is needed is further location of terminal and transfer facilities in the St. Louis district.

TERMINAL OPPOSED PERMIT FOR RIVAL

Commission Points Out That Railroad Deck, Never Used, Would Facilitate Shipping Service.

By CHARLES G. ROSS,
Chief Washington Correspondent
of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today granted to the Manufacturers' Railway Co. over the protest of the Terminal Railroad Association, the right to use certain tracks available to the company by the City of St. Louis, including the tracks over the Municipal Bridge and its approaches.

The commission found that "future public convenience and necessity" required the granting of the Manufacturers' application, which had the support of the City of St. Louis, the Business Men's Association of South St. Louis and the St. Louis Shippers' Conference Association. Hearings on the application were held last June.

Foch Tells What Transpired When Germans Asked for Truce

Allied Commander-in-Chief, Also for First Time, Discloses His Personal Thoughts on the Occasion.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and the New York World.

(Copyright, 1928, by the Press and Publishing Co., New York World, Post-Dispatch.)
LONDON, Nov. 20.—Marshal Foch, in an exclusive interview granted to the Paris correspondent of the London Sunday Chronicle has told what happened when he faced the German representatives who came to him seeking to negotiate the armistice and end the World War.

He likewise disclosed his personal thoughts at the moment he faced the German representatives at Rheims on Nov. 7.

"So that's the German empire, isn't it? She is beaten. I must be firm, cool, without brutality or spite," he muttered to himself.

"Erzberger stepped forward and introduced his companions. They showed their papers, which were signed by the German Chancellor for the time being, Prince Max of Baden."

"We have come," Erzberger said to receive communication of the terms upon which you would make an armistice."

"I replied: 'I have no communication to make. If you have anything to ask me, do so.'"

"He tried to make some explanation, but I asked him: 'Do you want a cessation of hostilities?'"

"Yes," he replied, "we do."

"Well, then," said I, "I will let you know the terms on which the Allied Governments have empowered me to stop the fighting."

According to the alleged transcript in modern railroad management to consolidate and unify such facilities in large cities.

"Much testimony was presented by the applicant and by the City of St. Louis regarding the delays in the transfer of freight across the river by the Terminal. Statements were filed showing the time consumed by that company in transferring each of several thousand cars through the St. Louis district to the Manufacturers' in several months of the last three years. The summary of these statements showed that 18.1 percent of these cars were more than 24 hours delayed.

Any time in excess of 24 hours was called an unreasonable delay. The statements showed delay in many cases of several days.

"On the other hand it was claimed in behalf of the Terminal that these statistics were misleading and that the average time consumed by that company in handling freight across the river at St. Louis was much less than 24 hours. Figures were presented for such handling was 10 hours and 35 minutes."

Swifter Service Expected. The commission concluded that by the use of the Municipal Bridge, the Manufacturers' Railway could handle such interchange traffic more quickly than it is now being handled by the Terminal.

The report of the commission refers to a city ordinance of 1917, fixing terms upon which railroads might use the Municipal Bridge and its approaches. It says that these terms are not acceptable to the applicant and that negotiations for a new city ordinance have been had with the city authorities.

Continuing, the report says: "The testimony both for the city and the applicant indicates that authority for the use of these facilities on satisfactory terms will be secured if the application is approved. The applicant's proposition, which seems to meet with the approval of the city officials, is to pay $1 for each car and $2 for each locomotive passed over the bridge and its approaches until such time as the traffic enables the use of the bridge to be put on a wheelage basis."

"Protestant (the Terminal) regards such payment as wholly inadequate compensation for the use of the bridge and its approaches, which will have cost the city more than $7,750,000 when the southern approach, of which the expense will be about $1,500,000, is completed."

Other Carriers May Use Bridge. The use which the applicant seeks to make of the Municipal Bridge and its approaches is not exclusive. Other carriers, including the Terminal, may use the bridge by permission of the city. Officers of the Terminal, however, seem to minimize the advantages to be gained from the use of the bridge, asserting that traffic passing thereover would increase the congestion already existing in the Mill Creek Valley district, directly west of the bridge. They also point out that the eastern approach crosses over the tracks of the Terminal in East St. Louis at a considerable elevation, so that connection therewith would cost some $200,000.

"Apparently the Terminal does not want to use the Municipal Bridge unless it can control it. The record shows that the city has urged the railroads to use it, have in fact, made strenuous efforts to find a tenant for the structure. Those authorities, however, do not want to give

"When the terms were read, I told them: 'Gentlemen, you have 72 hours to answer.'"

"For God's sake Marshal," Erzberger exclaimed, "Let's not wait 72 hours. Let us suspend hostilities now. Our army is a prey to anarchy. Bolshevism is threatening us. Bolshevism can sweep through Germany, through Middle Europe, even threaten France."

"I shrugged my shoulders. 'I do not know in what state your army is,' I replied. 'I only know the position of mine.'"

"The German envoys then withdrew. During the next three days they transmitted to me a mass of written communications. On the morning of Nov. 10, I sent word to remind them that the next day they would have to sign the terms I had proposed."

"They received a long telegram from Hindenburg authorizing them to sign the armistice. But in the meantime, a revolution had broken out in Berlin and I asked the envoys: 'Whom do you represent now?'"

"They showed me a telegram from the Reich president, Ebert. This gave them full power to sign. On the night of Nov. 10 to 11, I rested only from midnight to 1 a. m. Then the Germans came along."

"I made out the order for the advance of 5000 armored cars and machine guns. That ended it. At 5:15 a. m. they signed the armistice, not hiding their great anger. At 7 a. m. I left for Paris."

control of the bridge to the Terminal.

"The bridge was built, as above quoted, to afford opportunity for competition with that company. As first planned, the eastern approach ran right into the tracks of the Terminal in East St. Louis. This plan was strongly opposed by the city authorities. As the western approach connected with the terminal trackage in the Mill Creek Valley, they feared that to run the eastern approach into the tracks of that company would completely bottle up the bridge and prevent its use by the Terminal."

The plans were therefore changed and the eastern approach was raised, making the grade more gradual and carrying the approach over and some distance beyond the Terminal trackage.

Why Bridge Is Useful. "An examination of the map of St. Louis shows very clearly that in the interest of economy and efficiency in freight transfer service across the Mississippi River, the Municipal Bridge should be used for traffic long distances up one side of the river and down the other side when it might be moved directly across or with much shorter movements, is uneconomical and unjustifiable."

This condition could be remedied by turning the bridge over to the Terminal to operate, as that company seems to desire. The city, however, which owns the bridge, does not want to give that company the exclusive use of it, and no good reason is perceived why it should not allow the Manufacturers to operate over it, as the latter now seeks to do.

"While the unification of terminal and interchange facilities in great transportation centers has certain obvious advantages, it may produce an undesirable situation, as the applicant and the city authorities think it has in this case. Where competition can be preserved without much duplication of facilities, it is usually desirable to preserve it."

Slight Danger of Duplication. "In the instant case, it does not appear that there will be such duplication to any great extent. The applicant is prepared to handle traffic across the river without quere operation in interstate commerce by the applicant over the tracks and facilities of the City of St. Louis specified in the application, contingent upon reasonable terms of compensation being agreed upon with the city authorities and submitted to us for our approval. An appropriate certificate of title to the equipment, and while, if the application is granted, some traffic will doubtless be drawn from the Terminal which the latter could handle with its present facilities, the amount of such traffic will evidently not be sufficient seriously to affect that company or its service and it will apparently be greatly to the advantage of the traffic, as it can and doubtless will be handled with much greater expedition."

"On the record presented we find that present and future public convenience and necessity require that it be issued."

ONTARIO PREMIER DEMANDS REFORMS IN PAPER INDUSTRY

Says Government Will Take Hand Unless Companies Cease Ruinous Competition.

By the Associated Press.
TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 20.—Premier G. Howard Ferguson of Ontario has warned pulp and paper companies operating in the province that unless reforms in management are made the Government "will be compelled to give serious and immediate consideration to what action it should take." Much American capital is invested in the companies.

In a letter to officers of the companies the Premier said: "Notwithstanding the assistance the Government has given to the paper business, the whole industry today finds itself in a very unfortunate condition. During the greater portion of the past year this Government has hoped that the good sense of the people in charge of this great industry would stabilize conditions and enable everyone to carry on. It is apparent, however, that no serious effort along this line has been attempted. Methods have been pursued that have created what appears to be a condition of chaos."

The companies have been engaging in ruinous competition, the Premier charges, and he says "the Government has made up its mind that if in the next few days these companies do not give up the plan of assassination we are going to take a hand."

U. S. INDIAN BUREAU ACCUSED OF NEGLIGENCE IN CALIFORNIA

Defense Association Tells Senate Committee Race Has Decreased From 150,000 to 18,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—Charges of "shameful neglect" and "maladministration" were made against the Federal Indian Bureau here yesterday at the opening of the sensational investigation of Indian affairs in California. Backed by United States Senator Johnson of California, the Federation of Women's Clubs and the California Indian Defense Association and Indians from the Bureau, the defendants appeared before the committee to press complaints against their white guardians.

These complaints, it was brought out at the hearing, include charges of "neglect in handling Indian lands by the bureau, neglect of their health, education and their well being in general."

Chief among them was the claim of the Indian Defense Association that since the Indian Bureau took over the affairs of the California Indians in 1850 their number has decreased from 150,000 to 18,000. This, they claimed, is the greatest destruction of Indian life in any State.

L. A. Barrett, United States Forester, testified the land allotted to the Indians in California was miserable and consisted mainly of sage brush and rock.

Many Others Injured When Blast Occurs in Factory at Vincennes.

By the Associated Press.
VINCENNES, France, Nov. 20.—An ammunition factory exploded here today.

Twelve persons were killed and many others were injured. The factory, which was Government-owned, was situated half a mile from the walls of Vincennes, was operated under supervision of the War Department. The twelve dead included both soldiers and civilians.

The factory specialized in ammunition for small arms. Rifle cartridges were scattered over a large radius by the violence of the explosion.

Four women were among those seriously hurt. Officials of the War Ministry, the Attorney-General and several civilian magistrates hurried to the scene to open an investigation. The greatest secrecy was maintained.

Massachusetts Wet by 253,223. By the Associated Press.
BOSTON, Nov. 20.—With only six small precincts missing from a tabulation compiled by the Constitutional Liberty League of the vote of the Massachusetts prohibition referendum two weeks ago, the result announced today showed 253,223 yes, 144,512 no, on the question whether the State's Senators should be instructed to ask Congress to repeal the eighteenth amendment. The question carried in 34 of the 36 districts in which it was proposed. Four districts did not vote on the question. The wet margin was 253,223. The number of persons participating in the vote represented 78 per cent of the total ballots cast in the presidential election.

WITH BYRD SOUTH POLE EXPEDITION, ABOARD THE CITY OF NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Today the bark City of New York is riding on an even keel for the first time in many days. Chief Officer McGuinness says we can thank the albatross that came aboard last night for our change in luck. We are back on our course, so that our charted track no longer takes the form of a question mark.

Blown off our course and scudding along with a 30 to 40 degree list to the starboard, with all hands working day and night under shortened sail, lashing deck cargo, battering up shifted cargo in the hold, and at work in the coal bunkers, with the wind whistling like a soul in distress, we were hardly in accord with the opinion of Capt. Melville that we had only a moderate gale.

Not one person aboard but was relieved that the decks were no longer awash nor the horizon rushing up and down in the galleys.

Din of Sliding Pots and Pans. "A merry time was had by all. Above the din of sliding pots and pans could be heard Reichart's and Greagh's picturesque language as another attempt at seeping up the wall. When we finally did get the soup, we enjoyed it thrice."

"Once down, once up and once in our lap."

Every moveable object had to be securely lashed for sudden sliding and sea-heaving and rolling most disconcertingly.

At the wheel the helmsman soon found he had a man's-sized job; Blackburn, in an ungarded moment, was thrown completely over the wheel, landing on his head. Although he was a long, contumacious dolt, reclined in his bunk only to be dashed to the deck when it broke down as he fell asleep.

Czogka found a spare davit bent under his knee and the United States Marine in him called fluently to bless the ordinary seaman who was supposed to have lashed the heavy iron support.

Clings Like Banner to Foremast. Coman on lookout on the foremast head saw all but waist and overboard as the clung like a banner to the foremast lazy when a giant sea broke over the bows. Meanwhile Strom and Johansen quietly and efficiently went about their work smiling and saying: "This is the only real sailing we have done."

Bursey from Newfoundland amused himself by picking out hymns on what remains of the player-piano in the bull pen.

All this commotion suddenly quelled when one of the beautiful albatrosses which have been following us came aboard. It must have known that no one on an old wind-jammer would harm it as it proved surprisingly friendly. After we had given it a hearty meal of suet it went on its way and today the reincarnated spirit of some old mariner came back to roam the seas as has done a good turn.

Removal of Unsightly Trolley Poles Downtown Again Under Discussion

Streets Would Be More Attractive if Wires Were Attached to New Ornamental Concrete Standards.

AN effort to make downtown streets more attractive by removing unsightly trolley poles and attaching the wires to the new ornamental concrete standards for electric lights, officials of the city and the street car company are conferring on the feasibility and expense.

A similar consultation was held

—By a Post-Dispatch Staff Photographer.

DUPLICATION of pole facilities downtown is shown by this photograph, looking south from the northeast corner of Twelfth boulevard and Fine street. The ornamental concrete standards carry the new electric street lights to be turned on next month, while the unattractive iron poles are for trolley wires. The light poles are made to hold the trolley lines, too, and the city and car company are negotiating now over a proposal to utilize them in that way and eliminate the company's units, to enhance the attractiveness of downtown streets.

about a year ago, when the trolley system was in receivership, but the situation is different now, with a new company in control.

Looking along a downtown street, an observer sees the well-designed concrete poles, the metal trolley standards, which in some places at an angle, further confusing the view, and the old-fashioned, cumbersome arc light standards. Modern electric luminaries are replacing the arc lights, under the bond issue, and they will be turned on downtown early next month, after which the arc lamp supports will be removed.

Wooden Poles on Olive Street. In the case of widened Olive street there are some unsightly wooden poles in use on the south side to hold trolley wires, reminiscent of the early days of electric tramways.

The new concrete posts in the district bounded by the river and Jefferson, Cass and Chouteau avenues are provided with holes for hanging the trolley wires, and were built strong enough to bear the strain.

Cost of transferring the wires to the city's poles in the district downtown area, bounded by Third street, Twelfth boulevard, Market street and Washington avenue, would be about $60,000, said Stanley Clarke, executive vice president of the Public Service Co. Mayor Miller explained that the question of who should bear the expense was the subject of conference. In this connection, Clarke pointed out: "There is some question whether car riders should bear the expense. If the company foots the bill, the charge would come from the depreciation fund, which car riders make up as part of operating expense."

Feasibility Considered. As to feasibility, General Manager Greenland of the car company has said that it is necessary to have varying location of poles at intersections, to meet the demands of switches and crossovers, so that in some instances the light standards, already in place, might not be located properly for the trolleys. He added that the company poles represent a considerable investment but are good for a long time, as they do not deteriorate rapidly.

While the car company has removed poles and strung its wires from the walls of buildings, in some places, many structures are not suitable for that purpose and elsewhere it would not be carried on heavy feeder wires must be carried on poles. There is no provision for feeder wires on light poles, but it might be found possible to install them in underground conduits, at some expense. The new electric street lights will be fed by buried wires.

Telephone and telegraph lines and electric service wires downtown are in conduits and an existing ordinance requires that such lines in other districts be changed from overhead to underground in accordance with a fixed annual schedule. No consideration has been given by city officials to an ordinance to compel the use of the light poles for trolley wire lines.

Outside of the specified central area, new concrete posts elsewhere in the city were not built with holes from which to suspend trolley lines.

ECONOMIST URGES FINANCIAL BOARD FOR NICARAGUA

Commission of Three Would Include Two Americans Under Plan of W. W. Cumberland.

STATE DEPARTMENT ISSUES HIS REPORT

Sale of Majority Interest in National Bank to Financial Group in U. S. Its First Recommendation.

By CHARLES G. ROSS,
Chief Washington Correspondent
of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—A detailed plan, prepared by Dr. W. W. Cumberland, for placing the financial affairs of Nicaragua in the hands of a high commission of three members, two of them to be Americans, was released yesterday by the State Department, with the notation that the plan "represents the personal views of Dr. Cumberland."

The plan is part of a comprehensive economic and financial survey of Nicaragua, made at the request of the Government of that country under the auspices of the Washington Department of State. Dr. Cumberland's report has been in the hands of the department since last March.

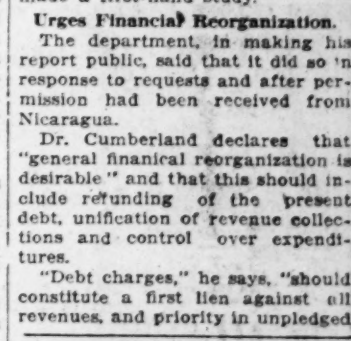

Dr. Cumberland, who is an economist of note, has served as financial expert with a number of American commissions abroad. For a time he was foreign trade adviser with the Department of State at Washington, and later, 1921-22, he was superintendent general of customs for the Republic of Peru. From 1924 until about a year ago he was financial adviser and general receiver of the Republic of Haiti. He had just resigned from the last-named post when the State Department, responding to a request from Nicaragua that someone be designated to make a survey of that country, picked him for the task. He accepted and made a first-hand study.

Urges Financial Reorganization. The department, in making his report public, said that it did so in response to requests and after permission had been received from Nicaragua.

Dr. Cumberland declares that "general financial reorganization is desirable" and that this should include refunding of the present debt, unification of revenue collections and control over expenditures.

"Debt charges," he says, "should constitute a first lien against all revenues, and priority in unpledged

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.

BACK in the old days, the old time peddler is almost a memory. In other days he roamed from town to town and door to door with his pack, selling almost everything from a needle to a wash tub. He was in a way the news crier in isolated neighborhoods.

In our town, Dr. Thompson used to sail forth in April with his magic robe and Indian root

blood purifier and return with the November frost. In that time he covered four states. He built a fine home and left a considerable estate.

It is history that innumerable princes of success were former pack peddlers. Many of them today are steeped from their early burden. The mail order business announced them, along with the automobile and other quick means of transportation.

Instead of the pack peddler the small town also has countless little specialty shops and roadside hut-ches. A few peddlers carry on with big motor trucks, but their number is rapidly diminishing. It was a pursued calling that lost step with the times.

Strangely enough it is only in populous centers that the peddler is able to survive. There are hundreds of them in New York making their door to door canvases and prospering. Almost every giant skyscraper office building has its warnings: "No Peddlers."

These are not the type belonging to the push-cart army of the lower East Side and uptown. They do not carry the shoulder sample book of their supplies. They are crisp types of alert salesmen.

The modern peddler is able to offer you copies of great paintings

as well as second-hand automobiles. Many operate on the small payment plan and maintain large offices. The last of the old-time peddlers in the metropolis are the Armenian rug sellers and velvet coated Italian selling statuettes.

These observations were inspired by a courtly gentleman who sent up one of those flimsy engraved visiting cards bearing only his name.

He shook hands in the manner of an old friend, deposited himself in the best chair and it was 15 minutes before I was conscious

he was the old-time peddler in a new setting. He had a leather compact that fitted snugly in his inside coat pocket containing his wares. And, of all things, he sold scarf pins. I gave him the address of a fellow who wears only bow ties.

NOW and then one of those workworn East Side push cart

peddlers is escorted across town

by a policeman. He is headed for a police station for not having a license. Able to speak but a few words of English, his bewilderment

is pathetic. Especially when speaking patrons lead to the doorway to watch and snicker.

A STATISTICIAN discovers that a few New York men marry if they have not reached the altar before reaching the age of 25.

THE dangerous age, so breach of promise records show, is between 45 and 50. It is after 45

that aging Romeo's caution to the winds and fly to the amorous adventure. This is the age when they are likely to write those honored letters which are later read

by 12 perfect strangers with a giggle and perhaps a sigh. The drol gold digger with her red lips and ast-cooled knees is always angling

for the bachelor nearing 50. He assays high in pure gold.

IN a cafe one night recently a loquacious philosopher was called to the telephone. A girl friend skipped over to his fair companion and inquired: "What time do you have to wheel him back to the Ol-den's Home?"

"Just as soon as I can cry him out of a pint or so of pearls," was the retort.

IN the same cafe one of those annoying waiter capitals was making suggestions while we were trying to inspect the menu. There should be some way an adult person could order a meal all by himself. As one who does the eating,

I am fairly obsessed with the quaint conceit I can do a major part of the thinking.

funds should be assigned to adequate support of the newly created constabulary. Currency stability should be assured by sale of the majority interest in the National Bank of Nicaragua to an American financial group of recognized strength and integrity.

"Nicaragua is not at present in financial condition to undertake construction of a railroad to the Atlantic Coast. If a refunding and improvement loan is floated, adequate funds would be available for the construction of a highway from Managua to the Atlantic Coast, and this is recommended.

"If, however, the foregoing plan of financial reorganization for Nicaragua is at present impracticable, three things should at least be done immediately:

"1. Majority interest in the National Bank should be sold.

"2. Sufficient financial support for the constabulary should be assured.

"3. Claims should be paid by assignment of specified revenues to that purpose.

Advices Care in Appointments.
"If the United States should take an active interest in the finances and general administration of Nicaragua, the utmost care should be exercised in selecting American personnel for these purposes. At best, the task will not be easy, and incompetent or unsympathetic American officers could well create more serious problems than those which they would be supposed to solve."

The report recommends that the President of Nicaragua appoint upon nomination by the Secretary of State of the United States an American Collector-General and an American Auditor-General, these two to constitute, with the Nicaraguan Minister of Finance, a high commission charged with the preparation of the national budget, the administration of loan funds and other related duties.

The opinion is expressed that the appointment of the two American officials, to insure proper collection and disbursement of the public funds, would be welcomed by the Nicaraguan people.

Means of Political Stability.
In arguing for support of the National Constabulary, the report says:

"There is reason to hope that political stability can be attained if the constabulary established under the recent agreement between Nicaragua and the United States is adequately financed and capably officered. The first should be assured by making funds for the Guardia Nacional a charge on governmental revenue subsequent only to cost of collection and service of the public debt. The second is a matter of careful selection of officers of the United States Marine Corps who are detailed to serve in Nicaragua."

The monetary system of the country will be insecure, Dr. Cumberland says, so long as the Government owns the National Bank, which administers the currency. Hence, he suggests that the majority interest in the bank be sold to strong American banking groups, and in connection with such sale certain improvements of the present system should be effected.

U. S. Has $10,000,000 Invested
He reaches the guarded conclusion that "with the establishment and maintenance of an adequate constabulary conducted on a non-partisan basis, inauguration of unified collection of revenues, control over expenditures and continued interest in the part of the United States, limited optimism may be placed in the future of Nicaragua."

The present economic unsoundness of the country, he says, is due to the fact that coffee constitutes an undue proportion of the exports, with the result that any fluctuation in the price or volume of this commodity is calculated to upset the financial structure. There can be no well-balanced development of the country, the author proceeds, until life and property are made secure and "until the currency is protected from the constant threat of being manipulated for convenience of the treasury."

Cumberland says that American investments in Nicaragua are "surprisingly small," amounting to only about $10,000,000, which is less than American investments in any other Latin-American country, with the possible exception of Paraguay.

"Dollar Diplomacy" Not Indicated.
"This," he says, "in spite of American political and financial intervention in Nicaraguan affairs since 1911 and is incontrovertible evidence that financial motives or dollar diplomacy have not been the directing force in the policy of the United States toward Nicaragua."

He finds that the New York banks which for years have interested themselves in Nicaragua are not creditors of the Government at the date of his report (Nov. 1, 1928) for more than $250,000.

"It is childish to contend, he says, 'that these bankers could dominate or control the finances of Nicaragua. For many years the bankers in question have attempted to assist Nicaragua in its financial problems, and while this assistance was naturally rendered at market rates, it can be stated with assurance that oppressive or sharp practice has at no time characterized their activities. The most recent loan by the bankers to the Government was made at a surprisingly low rate of interest in view of the fact that the Republic was at the time in a state of civil war.'

The report deals kindly with the Nicaraguan people. "There prevails," it says, "a refreshing democracy of spirit. Peonage is as characteristic of Guatemala is absent. All classes of the population, including both men and women, take a surprisingly keen interest in politics. Kindliness, and even quality of feeling, prevails between employer and employee. In short, the Nicaraguan population has many admirable qualities and elements of strength. Lack of foresight and constructive ability along practical lines, combined with undisciplined political enthusiasm, are probably its most outstanding defects."

Gas Forces Woman to Sleep in Chair

"Nights I had to sit up in a chair, I had stomach gas so bad. I took Adierika and nothing I eat hurts me now. I sleep fine."—Mrs. Glenn Butler.
The simple mixture of glycerin, buckthorn bark, etc. (known as Adierika), has a most surprising DOUGHERTY action. It acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel (most medicines act on lower bowel only) and removes foul matter that poisoned the system for months. It clears GAS and sourness from the stomach and bowels, bringing INSTANT relief from stomach trouble. And in addition, Adierika removes metabolic poisons which cause neuritis and rheumatism.
Dr. H. I. Shoup, New York, reports: "In addition to intestinal cleansing, Adierika checks the growth of intestinal bacteria." Dr. J. Weaver, "In my 50 years practice, I have found nothing to excel Adierika."
J. E. Puckett: "After using Adierika I feel better than for 10 years. Awful impurities were eliminated."
It will surprise you the amount of poisons Adierika brings out—you would never believe they were in your system. In chronic constipation, GAS, sour stomach, sick headache, just ONE spoonful Adierika brings wonderful relief. At leading druggists. Sold by Louis by Wolff-Wilson Drug Store. By the Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 20.—

United States Airways, Inc., of Kansas City, which recently announced it would establish an airplane line for passenger and express service between Kansas Cityand St. Louis, today filed an application with the Public ServiceCommission for a certificate of public convenience and necessity to operate the line.

This is the first application of the sort to be filed with the commission, and there is some question as to the commission's havingjurisdiction over aircraft. The company would be a common carrier, it transporting passengers forhire in Missouri, but the general Public Service Commission law does not include aircraft in itsdefinition of common carriers subject to the commission's regulation. The question of jurisdictionwill be taken up by the commission before it acts on the application.The company, which also has offices in Denver, proposes to operate two planes on the St. Louis-Kansas City route, with a schedule of three flights between the twocities. The time by railroad now is approximately eight hours. The proposed schedule of fares is $22from Kansas City to St. Louis, with a fare of $12 between Kansas City and Jefferson City, and a fare of$10 between Jefferson City and St.
Louis.Bulgaria Asks for Delay on Reparasuffered with rheumatism in my right arm and knee, shoulders and fingers. The pains were almost continuous, and I would have to have help to get up from a chair. My knees creaked and snapped like a rusty hinge so that I could not go up or down stairs. The pain would often wake me up at night, and it was almost impossible to find a comfortable position."I could not get my hand to my head because of pain and stiffnessin the shoulder. Weldon is truly a wonder worker, for all my aches andpains have left me. My fingers are limbered up and I can now get my hand to my head as well as ever. I had tried doctors and remedies but nothing ever reached my case until I

What Doctors Think of the Laxative Habit

In all history, no Indian was ever known to have constipation. Nor need YOU. He chewed the bark of a tree called cascara. Today, we have the candy Cascarets.

Cascarets the bowels never forms a laxative habit. If already formed, an occasional Cascarets will usually break the habit. For cascara strengthens the muscular wallsof the bowels, and their need of any aid at all grows constantly less.What other cathartic has this characteristic? The writer knows of none.An evacuation brought gently about by cascara will time times inten, be followed by full functioning of the bowels on the morrow—and for days after. For there is no RE-ACTION as with sickening salts, or any of the man-made purgatives that go through one's system like a bullet.

Physicians tell us cascara is the ideal laxative—and the tongue tells us candy Cascarets are its ideal form. At least a million people know this; what a pity there are any who don't! Especially parentsbecause children love to take a Cas-carets. After which, for days on-end, the bowels will be seen to work of their own accord.The only habit from cascara is that of regularity! Cascarets tone and train the bowels. But at thefirst sign of returning sluggishness another Cascarets is as effective as the first.There isn't a druggist who hasn't Cascarets, so WHY experiment with laxatives?

AUTO DRIVER HELD ON CARELESSNESS CHARGE IN KILLING

Mrs. Elizabeth Kelleher, Struck by Car of Raymond Dobson, Is 171st Fatality This Year.

Raymond Dobson, 4120 North Euclid avenue, whose automobile killed Mrs. Elizabeth Kelleher, 47 years old, 4621 Richard place, at West Florissant and Taylor avenues, at 3 p. m. yesterday, was held to the grand jury for criminal carelessness today by a coroner's jury.

Mrs. Kelleher's death brought the number of motor vehicle fatalities in St. Louis this year to 171, as compared with 117 at this date last year.

Miss Mary A. Gallagher, 50 years old, a teacher at the Walbridge public school, suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries at 9:45 o'clock last night when she was struck by an automobile driven by John Longo, 1950 Burd avenue, while crossing Union boulevard, about 160 feet north of Enright avenue.

Two men were killed and a third seriously injured when an automobile in which they were riding skidded and crashed into a Chicago & Alton motorbus on Highway No. 8, 12 miles north of Alton, yesterday afternoon.

The victims were Albert Wiedman, 25 years old, a mechanic, and L. H. Oshoff, 28, owner of a garage, of Effingham, Ill. A. Broom, an auto salesman, was injured.

The three had left Effingham in the morning to go to Carrollton on a hunting trip. Their shotguns were found in the wreck of Oshoff's car.

Witnesses said the automobile was speeding when it skidded on the wet pavement and crashed into the bus, which was slowing down at the time.

Street Car Crew Held on Bond in Woman's Death.

An open verdict was returned by a coroner's jury today in the death of Mrs. Hattie Hentchel, 63, 4118 Green Lea street, who was run down and killed yesterday by a street car at Gravois avenue and Chippewa street.

The motorman and conductor, who were the only witnesses, did not testify. A policeman testified he learned Mrs. Hentchel, in crossing the street, had run in front of the moving car. The motorman, James Henry, 2147 Geyer, and conductor, J. J. Kidd, 2612A Russell boulevard, who were arrested, were held under their bond for the grand jury.

SUGAR IMPROVES FRUIT FLAVORS

Makes these healthful foods delightful to the taste

The human body needs fruits, to be well-fed and healthy, and each person should eat at least one raw and one cooked fruit each day. Here are the health-giving elements that fruits bring to us: needed roughage, fruit vitamins, mineral salts, and beneficial fruit acids.

And, thanks to sugar, fruits can also be beneficial in another way. The harsh or sour acids, by being sweetened to taste, can be turned into delightful flavors that add enjoyment to eating. As a famous food scientist states it, "The fruit acids are softened by sugar. The fruit flavors are developed by sugar. Sugar promotes and facilitates the ingestion of fruits."

There are few people in the world who do not relish the delicious flavors of oranges and grapefruit salad, sweetened to taste. One of the most welcome beverages to any palate is hot lemonade.

And remember that stewed fresh apples or pears or stewed dried peaches, prunes or apricots are excellent for breakfast. For dinner, think of apple sauce with pork, and cranberry sauce with any kind of roast fowl or meat. Baked apples or pears and fruit pies are delicious, as well as healthful, for dessert.

Eating should be enjoyable as well as healthful. The use of sugar, on raw fruits and in cooking, is the friend of food enjoyment. The Sugar Institute.

Quart of Water Cleans Kidneys

Take a Little Salts if Your Back Hurts, or Bladder Is Troubling You

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Eating too much rich food creates acids, which excite the kidneys. They become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood. Then we get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys, or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin drinking a quart of water each day, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush and stimulate the kidneys; also to help neutralize the acids in the system, so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby often avoiding serious kidney complications.

IN JAIL 83 DAYS A SUSPECT, FREED WITHOUT A TRIAL

Jacob Beery Released When U. S. Narcotic Inspector Admits He Has No Evidence.

Threatened with citation for contempt of court, Narcotic Inspector W. O. McDonald appeared before United States Commissioner Atkins yesterday to testify against Jacob Beery, 50-year-old garage attendant, who had been in jail since Aug. 23, when McDonald arrested him on a charge of selling narcotics.

After McDonald had testified he bought no drugs from Beery and had only a suspicion that he possessed any, the prisoner was released. During three months he had been arraigned nine times before the Commissioner. Eight times he had been returned to jail, in default of $1500 bail, because McDonald was not there to testify.

McDonald was sent here from Kansas City in July to work with Inspector Addie M. Sheets under William M. Joerling, special agent of the prohibition bureau, in an investigation of personnel, particularly of Charles S. Thompson, former narcotic agent in charge here, now under charges of misconduct.

Threatened With Citation. McDonald did not explain yesterday what connection the arrest of Beery had with the investigation nor why he persistently had failed to appear until after Commissioner Atkins had threatened Saturday to lay a complaint before Judge Faria and recommend that the inspector be cited for contempt.

Cora Johnson, arrested with Beery at 121 Valentine street, has charged in an affidavit, now in Thompson's possession, that she was forced by McDonald, Sheets and Joerling to sign an affidavit charging Inspector Thompson with misconduct.

As the only witness against Beery, McDonald testified that he went to 121 Valentine street on Aug. 10 with a woman informer and asked Cora Johnson to obtain a cube of morphine for the following evening. Beery was in the place, he said, and offered to let him have a half cube of morphine, but the inspector declined.

The next evening, McDonald continued, he obtained the cube and paid $1, ordering two more cubes which the Johnson woman delivered the next day for $2.

Eighteen days later, McDonald said, he returned to the place and arrested Cora Johnson, taking her to a hotel room, where he, Sheets and Joerling questioned her for four hours, and removed her to the City Jail. The same day Beery was arrested and placed in jail.

"You didn't buy anything from Beery," Commissioner Atkins asked. "No."

"You didn't know whether he had the morphine he offered to sell?" "No."

"He did nothing, to your knowledge, in violation of the antinarcotic act?" "Well, he was there when the transaction was made with the Johnson woman."

"Under whose instructions were you acting when you arrested this woman?" "I was acting under Mr. Joerling's instructions."

Woman Held for Grand Jury. The commissioner immediately discharged Beery and ordered the Johnson woman held for the grand jury. Neither testified at the hearing. Both had been in jail since Aug. 23, and Beery's employer had tried persistently to get bond for him but was unable to persuade any professional bondsmen to vary the traditional rule against risking bonds in narcotic cases.

Recently when Cora Johnson was brought to the Federal Building for a hearing, which did not take place because of McDonald's absence, she came upon Inspector Thompson in an ante-room.

"Mr. Thompson," she said, "I made an affidavit against you but what I said wasn't true. They forced me to sign it."

Thompson looked inquiringly at Inspector Joerling, who was sitting nearby, and the special investigator remarked, "I don't know anything about that; McDonald and Sheets got that affidavit." Subsequently, the Johnson woman made an affidavit in which she charged that Joerling had warned her that if she sought to exonerate Thompson she would be "run out of town or sent to the penitentiary for five years."

Many Others Also Held. Beery and Cora Johnson are but two of about 20 alleged addicts and peddlers who have been held in the City Jail following arrest by McDonald and Sheets, ostensibly in their investigation of Thompson and other narcotic and prohibition agents. About once each week a patrol wagon has transferred a dozen or more of the prisoners to the Federal Building for preliminary hearings which did not materialize because of McDonald's absence. Most of the prisoners are still in jail in default of bond. Beery got a hearing only after his attorney, Burr S. Goodman, complained to Commissioner Atkins Saturday stating that he would have filed habeas corpus proceedings except for the fact that his client was penniless as the result of his long imprisonment. Thompson, who was transferred to Oklahoma during the investigation, returned to St. Louis a few weeks ago and has been preparing his defense against the misconduct charges. Last week, at the instance of Congressman John J. Cochrane, it was announced that another special investigator of the prohibition department "could reopen the investigation. United States Attorney Brewer said today he was investigating the Beery case to determine "what it was about" and who was at fault in order to prevent recurrence of the incident. "I feel culpable myself," he said, "as my office should have been on the witness being present in case being discussed."

CONTEST OF ROTHSTEIN WILL FILED IN COURT BY HIS FAMILY

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—A contest of the will of Arnold Rothstein was said to have signed with a cross on his deathbed was filed in Surrogate's Court today by the father, mother and two brothers of the slain gambler.

A jury trial of their contest was demanded by the relatives, who charged that Assemblyman Maurice F. Cantor, Rothstein's attorney, used "undue influence" and guided the dying man's hand with his own in forming the cross mark at the bottom of the instrument. The objectors also charged that Cantor and other persons unknown to them, named as legatees in the will,
"exercised such improper and undue influence" that Rothstein, at the time, was not capable of executing a will. Requests in the will included one-sixth of the estate for 10 years to Inez Norton, former show girl; one-third to the widow, Mrs. Carolyn Rothstein, from whom the gambler had been estranged; the income from one-sixth of the estate to Cantor; and to Rothstein's brothers, Edgar and Jack, respectively, $50,000 and $60,000, besides 20 per cent of the income of the estate for 10 years.
Mrs. Ruth Keyes, 24 years old, is being brought to New York by detectives from Chicago for a second questioning as to what went on before and after a party she attended in the hotel the night of the Rothstein shooting.

Mrs. Keyes admitted she had room No. 239 in the Park Central Hotel, and said she visited room 349, which was the number of the room where Rothstein was shot.
She denied knowing Rothstein,
however, and said she did not know George McManus, whom police wish to question.

HYDE PARK BREWERY TO CLOSE PROPERTY IS REPORTED SOLD

Plant Last of Five Belonging to Association to Continue Operation.
The Hyde Park Brewery at 1718
Cass avenue, which since the advent of prohibition has been turning out near beer, will be closed within a few weeks. It is understood the brewery company has sold the property and will relinquish it about the first of the year.
C. Norman Jones, president of the St. Louis Brewing Association, confirmed the report that the plant would close, but declined to go into detail. The brewery is the last plant of the association to remain in operation. Ten years ago the association had five plants, including the Green Tree, Walnwright,
City, Hyde Park and the Hyde Park bottling. The association was organized in 1890. Since prohibition it has been gradually working toward a reduction of capital and holdings.

FREDDIE WOOTEN'S WIFE OUT ON BOND IN JAIL DELIVERY

Four Informations Charge Her With Aiding in Escape of Husband.
Mrs. Josephine Wooten of East St. Louis was released on bond at Edwardsville today, after four informations had been filed against her charging her with aiding and abetting the escape from the Edwardsville jail of her husband, Freddie Wooten, former Birger gangster, charged with bank robbery and murder.

Wooten and his wife were captured last Tuesday, with Mike Durant, charged with murder, and Mrs.
Wooten was held in jail until today on the presumption that she passed the saws to her husband with which he and Durant saved
the bars of the jail and escaped.

TWO ACCUSED OF SWINDLING ST. LOUIS DOCTOR ARE HELD

Dr. William H. Hansen Asserts Pair Arrested in Little Rock Obtained $1850 From Him.
Two men were arrested at Little Rock, Ark., today, under an indictment returned last Thursday in St. Louis in which it is charged they obtained $1850 by false promises from Dr. William H. Hansen, who has offices in the Arcade Building. They are Dr. Alexander
Kirby, 37 years old, of Harrison, Ark., and Claude T. Brewer, 49, of Little Rock.

Dr. Hansen told the grand jury that in September, 1934, the two men persuaded him to take a one-third interest in a fictitious lumber tract near Harrison for $3500, on which he paid $1850 on account.
Later he learned, according to his testimony, that the tract did not exist and that neither of the men was in the lumber business. The defendants gave bond and will resist extradition.

MISSOURI-KANSAS GOVERNORS TO SEE ANNUAL GRID GAME

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 20.—Gov. and Mrs. SAM A. BAKER today accepted the invitation extended by Athletic Director C. L. Brewer to attend the Missouri-Kansas football game here Saturday.

The party will occupy a box on the Missouri side and opposite them will be the official party of Gov. Ben S. Paulen of Kansas. Gov. Paulen is planning to come to the game, his secretary said.

On the Kansas side also will be Chancellor and Mrs. E. H. Lindley and members of the Board of Regents of Kansas University and their guests.

President and Mrs. Stratton D. Brooks and members of the Board of Curators and Board of Visitors of the University of Missouri have reserved boxes in the Tiger side.

By Jerry Bernoudy
Washington University and Missouri University will meet in football at St. Louis Nov. 9, next year. It was announced last night by Arthur Eilers, business manager of the Bear institution, following a long distance telephone communication from Chester L. Brewer, director of athletics at the State school. The final decision came after Brewer had conferred with Eilers, Dr. Sharpe and Dr. Frank Ewerhardt at St. Louis yesterday afternoon.

The meeting yesterday considered the minor details of an agreement, and it only remained for the Missouri officials to ratify the financial terms as proposed by the Washington representative. This was accomplished early last evening when Brewer held a conference with his athletic board immediately following his arrival in Columbia. Two dates, Nov. 2 and Nov. 9 were under consideration. The State officials concluded the latter one to be the more favorable.

In addition to next year's contest, Eilers stated, "both schools are looking forward to making the game an annual event in St. Louis except when schedule adjustments necessitate a change."

It has been announced previously, Washington plans for a new football stadium to be ready for the opening of the 1929 season are well under way, and it is the present intention to make the Missouri game the occasion for the dedication.

Washington and Missouri failed to play this season for the first time in several years as a result of some trouble which originated at the 1926 game at Columbia. The difficulty was temporarily patched up last year, however, and the two schools played in St. Louis again, Missouri winning 12-0. Football relations were broken off after that encounter. The new agreement was pronounced as satisfactory to both schools and no further difficulties are anticipated.

Dr. Sharpe allowed his entire day of rest yesterday for the first time this season, but with no game scheduled for this Saturday the Bear mentor felt it would benefit his charges before setting out to preparation for the closing battle of the year with the Billikens on Thanksgiving day.

End of the Rainbow

THROUGH, broke, punched, drunk and down and out—that was the pot of gold at the rainbow's end, as found by Quentin Romero-Rojas, Chilean heavyweight fighter.

Six years ago the Chilean half-breed arrived in America with a less than rudimentary fight experience. Dazzled by the amazing good fortune of the Wild Bull of the Pampas, Luis Firpo, Rojas came to this country seeking another pot of gold.

Last Friday, in Oklahoma, the closing chapter was written of his failure. He followed the rainbow, but found at the end only disillusion and physical breakdown.

In an attempt to pick up a last piece of change, $500, by fighting a fourth-rate opponent, Rojas' efforts were so crude that the Oklahoma Boxing Commission suspended him and fined him all of his purse, $500. A promoter who picked the Chilean motor who played in St. Louis again, gave him $50 transportation to get out of town and back to a wife, three children and a job as night watchman, at the age of 32.

Something like this is the usual end for the mine run of the boxing fraternity. Punched, drunk and broke, too late they find the rainbow has faded and at the end is only a cold brick.

But try to tell 'em that!

The Field Goal Passes

IN the college football rules book there is still described a scoring possibility known as the field goal, the successful achievement of which is worth 3 points to the performing eleven.

But you would hardly know it from the scores of the games played last Saturday—in fact, no one would know it.

Of some 30 games, the scoring details of which were described last Saturday, there is a record of only one field goal having been counted—that was the one scored by Michigan in defeating the Michigan Aggies 3-0.

Another field goal was attempted by Washington University against Grinnell when, with the enemy one point to the good, and after having failed in three downs to put the ball across the nearly goal line, the Bears on their last essay tried to count by placement kick. It failed.

TRAVELS FROM LONDON TO DISCUSS "POWER OF MIND OVER GOLF BALL"

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Psychology as it pertains to golf will take its place alongside the election of officers and the location of tournaments in the program at the annual meeting of the Western Golf Association, Dec. 6.

Chalmers Jones, professor of psychology and ethics at London College, London, England, will tell the golfers what relation mind has to matter in a golf ball as it is propelled about a links.

Robert M. Cutting, Chicago banker and president of the association, is slated for a second term stance we found no evidence of the field goal having augmented the score of any major game played Saturday.

Field Goals Unprofitable

APARENTLY one of the prettiest plays and, by the way, one of the most difficult, has thus gone into the discard. Ever since the inauguration of the American college idea of football, the field goal has played a prominent part, until the last two years.

Now the development of the forward pass makes it a much more profitable venture to try a heave across the goal line, rather than to risk a drop or placement kick. The pass net six points, if successful, and the field goal only three.

And so the field goal passes.

Time was when a field goal was a feature of almost every game played. In one contest in St. Louis, in the days of the old C. B. C. club, Jimmy Riordan kicked six field goals at distances varying from 15 to 49 yards.

Four field goals today would win the average football game in spite of the forward pass. And yet the play is in the discard.

Let us hope some plan will be devised to keep this historic play in the game and develop some more Pat O'Dea or Riordans. It is just as spectacular and quite as difficult a play as the forward pass.

Kicking Below Par

THAT the field goal is slipping is further attested by the number of failures to score points after touchdowns. In Saturday's contests the picked kickers of the country—and that includes, in some cases, men sent in especially to perform the one task of scoring the extra points—booted only 37 points after 92 touchdowns.

That is about one success to two and one-half failures. Practically all of the attempts at points after touchdowns are tries for goal from placement, at a kicking distance of 15 yards from the goal line. Yet the best kickers of the country scored two and one-half failures for every success.

Something radically wrong here, boys, with the game of FOOTBALL.

The official award of the Western amateur golf title to Frank Delp of Portland, Ore., and the open crown to Abe Espinosa of Chicago, will be made.

BILLIKENS WILL TRY NEW PLAYS IN BEAR GAME

By Gerald Holland

Five complete teams, including two freshmen eleven, dashed up and down Sportsman's Park yesterday afternoon in St. Louis University's first practice for the Thanksgiving day game with Washington.

In no previous workout have the Billikens displayed the enthusiasm of yesterday, which may be taken as an indication that the Turkey day offering may be worth the $2.50 admission. Monday's practice was limited to Anderson's usual correction of mistakes in scrimmage, which have been effective in scrimmage, have been developed by Anderson.

With Joe Lintzenich in fine condition after a rest Saturday, Anderson has three good ball carriers to open the final game of the season. Capt. "Duce" Dierberger at right half is a reliable grouser, and Charley Eaton, the star of the victory over Louisville, has broken field running ability that will make him a constant threat. The line that worked with the first string backfield yesterday included Drury and Browning at the ends, Brown and Schwartz at the guards, Schultz and Cornell, tackles, and Eddie Davidson, center.

Only one scrimmage will be held this week, according to Coach Anderson, and that is scheduled for Thursday. The rest of the week will be devoted to new plays. '11 workouts henceforth will be closed to the team's followers.

St. Louis has been devoting a great deal of attention to an aerial attack which hasn't been used in actual competition and which may prove a strong factor against the

A last minute case of "ballot box stuffing" brought Joe Schultz, 1928 leader at Danville, out on top. Schultz, in the grand total, polled 1312 votes, whereas Southworth's total was 937. All but one of the votes for Schultz came on the final day. These were in 27 envelopes and contained from one to 100 ballots. However, from the handwriting this was the work of two or three individuals.

Literally hundreds of ballots were signed unmistakably by the same person. As the purpose of the informal ballot was to reflect genuinely the popularity of the various eligibles, it was felt that the casting of a large number of votes for Schultz by one, or possibly two or three persons, did not truly show the extent of his popularity but only the efforts of a few hard-working friends.

In the case of the other candidates, however, all seemed to be bona fide. Votes for Southworth, as well as all others, came in individual envelopes and, in a majority of cases, had letters accompanying them. This was not true in the case of the flood of votes for Schultz.

Though there were more than 1300 coupons, there was only one Schultz letter, that from J. W. Reuchwein of 2909 Gravois avenue. Mr. Reuchwein's envelope contained but one ballot and was in an entirely different handwriting than the others. In part, he says: "If you will go into his record you will find that Mr. Schultz is a genuine in developing young talent, which is essential at this time for the Cardinals."

Except for the influx of Schultz votes, Southworth again ran far ahead of the ticket on the final day. He received 256 votes, whereas the present incumbent, Bill McKee, obtained 88, or 624 fewer than were cast for the 1928 Rochester leader. Frank Snyder had 96 to bring his count up to 238, while Roger Bresnahan was far behind with but 88.

All told, 31 persons were given votes in the straw vote contest. Among the players now on the Cardinals roster, Frank Frisch was the most popular to get the job as manager. Frisch polled 42 ballots, Rabbit Maranville had six and Jim Bottomley seven. Grover Alexander and Pepper Martin had three each. Other players who received votes were Ray Blades, Chick Hafey and Jess Haines.

Three former managers of the Cardinals received votes. These were Rogers Hornsby, who will cover second base for the Chicago Cubs next season, who drew a total of 16, Bob O'Farrell and Branch Rickey each received one. There were eight boosters for Heinie Mueller. This despite the fact that the "sheik of Dover Place" now an outfielder with the Braves, has never announced himself as being a candidate. Nor did Dr. Robert Hyland, club surgeon, Charley Barrett or Will Rogers announce themselves in the race. But votes they received.

Some old-time favorites, among them Ty Cobb, Lefty Leifield, Jimmy Burke, Larry Dovie and Jimmie Wagner were picked by at least one fan.

One of the outstanding features of the entire contest was the fact that George Slater, one of the most popular players to ever wear a St. Louis uniform and at one time manager of the Browns, did not receive a vote.

With the 1212 ballots cast for Schultz, more than 3000 votes were cast in the contest.

There was nothing official concerning the contest. It was just with the idea of getting a popular view of the fans. Owner Braden has announced that he will name his 1929 pilot some time this week. It will be interesting to note how the leaders in the straw vote contest of the Post-Dispatch coincide with Braden's selection.

Engraved Cocktail Shakers Awarded Former Champions

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Former champions whose days as athletes are long since past have had their recognition at the fortieth annual convention of the Amateur Athletic Union. Six awards of engraved cocktail shakers were made at the annual banquet last night to the guests of honor, the winners of the competitions for the oldest living champions in various fields. The presentations were made by Mayor Walker of New York.

Recognition as the oldest living amateur athlete was given to Frank Fulgraff of the New York A. C., who started his athletic career as a member of the Gramercy Baseball Club, winner of the amateur championship of New York State in 1865. Later he became world's champion rifle shot in 1876 and won honors in rowing, tug of war and billiards.

T. H. Armstrong, holder of the American three and seven mile walking titles in 1877-88, was judged the oldest living national champion. Ray Ewry, Olympic broad jump champion in 1896, was recognized as the dean of the Olympic titleholders. The title of oldest living intercollegiate champion went to Dr. Graeme Hammond, winner of the intercollegiate quarter and half mile titles in 1877.

In allied forms of endeavor, Mortimer Bishop, who has been active as an official since 1879, was named the oldest living official, and Abe Yeager of the Brooklyn Eagle was recognized as the oldest active sports writer.

A. A. U. DISSOLVES STATE BODY FOR VIOLATING BOXING RULES

SPOTLIGHT IS TURNED UPON COLLEGE BOYS WHO PLAY BALL

St. Louis Chosen For Next A. A. U. Winter Meeting

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—T. L. Lewis was the unanimous choice of the A. A. U. convention today for next year's winter meeting place.

Invitations had also been received from Philadelphia, Chicago, San Francisco, Denver, Los Angeles and West Baden, Ind.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—A burst of oratory out of which came a steady stream of rejected or accepted records, awards of championship events, disciplinary and administrative acts and changes in policy, marked the opening of general sessions of the fortieth annual convention of the National Amateur Athletic Union today.

Boston and Baltimore waged a pitched battle over the award of the marathon championship with Boston winning out by a vote of 43 to 29 in a stormy session of the board of governors after the Long Distance Running Committee had reported in favor of Baltimore. Boston also gained the national senior boxing championship which it has held for 25 years. New York and Chicago lost out.

The present Connecticut association of the A. A. U. was ordered dissolved and a new one built around Yale University and nine swimming or track and field clubs in the State, this action being an outgrowth of President Murray Hulbert's suspension of the association for alleged violations of the amateur code by certain boxing clubs.

After once being rejected in a fight led by Di Benedetto, the amendment was adopted in clarified form. Proposed by Gustavus T. Kirby of New York, it provides that local A. A. U. registration officials may enroll as amateurs such athletes as are certified by a "well-recognized university or college which has and maintains a system of investigation and recording of the amateur status and other sports competitive qualifications of its students" without obtaining further information as to their qualifications. This privilege previously has been allowed only the United States military and naval academies.

With the new rule in force, it was brought out by A. A. U. must decide what colleges it believes come up to the standard outlined. It is at liberty to reject certifications of colleges of which it does not approve.

Di Benedetto's attack on college men who play baseball for money was intended to show that not all such institutions compel their athletes to follow strictly the amateur code, and also to point a contrast between the "150 a month college vacation ballplayer" and the boy who once took $5 for engaging in a boxing bout. Such a case as the latter arose and the boxer's amateur status was not restored.

Whereas Di Benedetto said the college ballplayer is getting away with money.

"There ought to be some sifting done some place," he declared. "It's a bad thing all over the country when college athletes play baseball and receive money while the A. A. U. does not permit any of its other members to violate its rules."

Bingham said that although Denver University was nothing wrong, with allowing boys to pick up needed money for summer baseball, he never would attempt to certify them as A. A. U. athletes as they clearly violate the organization's rules.

A "California" Record.

Nearly 200 records, most of them in track and field and swimming, were accepted, but most interest centered on those rejected and the reasons for denying them.

Lee Barnes' application for 14 feet 1 1/2 inches in the pole vault, which would have been the best ever recorded, was turned down because the pegs supporting the bar were two inches too long, but the 400-meter record of 47 seconds flat by Bud Spencer, another Californian, was accepted. This is in the running for world's record recognition.

"Impossible" Speed Defined.

Frank Russey's 70-yard dash indoors in 4.4 seconds at Hartford was referred back to the Record Committee for further investigation.

The disposition of the Thompson and Ferrell cases would in-

And, as according to the Judge's contract, there is no appeal from his decisions, the lid will stay put.

However, any owner who thinks he is smarter than the Judge, can take a whirl at the old army game at $500 per whirl it caught.

It Can't Be Done.

The Judge may have had some of his decisions reversed while on the Federal bench, but the baseball bench is something else again.

The Man on the Sandbox wishes to thank his public for the one scattering vote he received for manager of the Cardinals. While in no sense a candidate, he feels that if elected he would have given the fans 10 cents' worth of peanuts for a dime, let the shells fall where they may.

He would also have installed an overhead cash-and-carry system for the delivery of sandwiches and bottled refreshments direct to the consumer, thus eliminating the forward pass now in vogue.

Yes and moreover. To any patron sitting in fair territory he would have given a bonus of $5000 if hit on the nose by a batted ball.

PLAYER ANALYSIS GIVES SOLDAN BIG ADVANTAGE

By Harold Tuthill

An analysis of the football strength of Soldan and Roosevelt in the respective offensive and defensive positions reveals that Soldan holds a distinct advantage over Roosevelt in the game for the championship of the City High School League, Saturday.

The playing of Soldan this season has been superior in four respects, while that of Roosevelt has been impressive in only one department. Soldan holds the edge in having tackles, halfbacks and a center and a quarterback who have performed more ably throughout the present campaign than Roosevelt's men. Only in the work of the fullbacks does Roosevelt's candidate seem more creditable than Soldan's.

The ends and the guards of the two teams seem to be on a par. Due to Soldan's method of advancing the ball by forward passing the work of his wing men has been more in prominence, but Roosevelt's ends have shown a slightly better defense. There is not much to choose between the guards. The caliber of Roosevelt's guards is higher than that of its tackles, which would place them about even with Soldan's guards.

Soldan's Greater Resources.

In the matter of reserve strength Soldan has shown that it can put a substitute eleven on the field that can play almost as well as the first team. Roosevelt's reserve power is negligible.

The comparison by positions:

ENDS—Frazier and Belter of Roosevelt are on a par with Minkey and A. Bray of Soldan. The work of Minkey and Bray has been more spectacular than that of the Roosevelt ends, but Belter has shown promise of being one of the few good wing men in the league. The strength is even.

TACKLES—The absence of Norris from the Roosevelt lineup destroys whatever doubt there may be about Soldan's superiority in this department. Soest and Ed Becker of Soldan far surpass the work of Joe Becker and Lippert of Roosevelt. The advantage is Soldan's.

GUARDS—Many are inclined to place Soldan's combination of McHenry and Horowitz above Roosevelt's Ehredt and Monteith, but last week's game showed that Ehredt and Monteith are quite equal to their rivals. The power here is even.

CENTER—Wright of Soldan may be considered the most consistent and steady pivot man in the league. It was unfortunate that Jenkins of Roosevelt missed some valuable experience earlier in the season, due to injuries. The advantage is Soldan's.

QUARTERBACK—Cook of Soldan stands head and shoulders above any backfield player in the league. Nevertheless, Savage of Roosevelt is a capable field general and a tricky runner and will probably be mentioned on the "All-Star" team at the halfback position. The advantage is Soldan's.

HALFBACKS—Wilson and Hundhausen of Roosevelt are makeshift backfield men. Wilson is a reformer, while Hundhausen is a graduate of the second team. Both need more polish to contend for the honors Buchele and Schacklin have earned in the Soldan backfield. The advantage is Soldan's.

FILEBACK—It is generally believed that Barnes of Roosevelt is a better player than Shapiro of Soldan. It is likely that Barnes will be at his peak Saturday. Shapiro is a reliable back, but he lacks the fire of Barnes. The advantage is Roosevelt's.

"BLUE CHIP" STOCKS LEAD IN THE PLAY

High Priced Shares Whirled Upward in Sensational Fashion as the "Bull" Movement Is Resumed in Full Swing.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Owing to the tremendous volume of trading and the long ticker delays in recent weeks, officials of the New York Stock Exchange decided today that beginning Friday all sales volume of stocks in transactions of less than 500 shares will be eliminated from the tape, except a few minutes after the opening.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—All trading records on the New York Stock Exchange were broken today in a wild bull movement which carried scores of issues to new high prices. Many of them on gains of 10 to 20 points. Many of the gains were cut down and a number of recent favorites depressed 1 to 5 points below yesterday's final prices in a late wave of profit taking.

Total sales were near 7,000,000 shares. The ticker fell nearly two hours behind the market before the close and was not expected to record the final transactions until after 5 o'clock.

The day's sales were more than last Friday's previous record of 6,714,400 shares. Stocks of a total value estimated at well in excess of $500,000,000 changed hands. It was only five months ago that total sales first crossed the 5,000,000 share mark.

Profit-taking in the final hour diminished most gains and resulted in a number of net losses. Dupont, after touching a record price at 502, fell back around 490. Radio, after touching a new peak price of 265, fell back to 255. Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck and Packard Motor closed with net losses of 3 to 4 points.

Allied Chemical, Canadian Pacific, Johns-Manville, Erie, Union Pacific, Curtiss and Wright Aero, and Chile Copper were among shares closing 2 to about 6 points higher.

Additional closing quotations were General Motors, 212 1/2; U. S. Steel, 162 1/2; Chrysler, 129 1/2; General Electric, 186 1/2; American Smelting, 28 1/2; Pan-American B, 57 1/2; and Green Canada Copper, 169 1/2.

So great was the accumulation of orders that the ticker fell 1 1/2 minutes behind the market at 1 p. m., the longest delay at that hour on record, and there were indications that the day's sales would run around 7,000,000 shares.

Dupont was the spectacular individual feature in the first three hours of the session, soaring 50 points to a new high record at 502. Case Threshing Machine was up 32 points to 451. Radio, 23 1/2 points to 265, and Greene Cananea Copper, Keith-Albee-Orpheum, Federal Liquid Carbonic, International Harvester, Johns-Manville, Woolworth, May Department Stores, Pittsburgh Coal and Standard Oil of California went up 5 to 10 points, all touching new peak prices.

Chemical, Curtiss and Wright Aero and Russia Insurance soared 3 to 9 points, but did not touch new highs.

Many Rumors as to Prices.
The rapidity of the advance in these issues indicated a marked scarcity in the floating supply. Severe increases in their margin requirements sent cautionary notes to keep speculation in an effort to keep the market from going to a new peak. Wall Street was flooded with rumors that this or that stock would advance to $200, $300 or $400 a share, and rumors were so numerous that they were invariably regarded as danger signals.

Call money was in fairly plentiful supply at the renewal rate of 6 1/2 per cent.

SHARES SOLD.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Total sales, 6,811,500 shares, estimated, compared with 6,100,000 shares sold on Nov. 19, 1928, and 5,200,000 shares sold on Nov. 18, 1928, compared with 5,000,000 shares sold on Nov. 17, 1928.

Active Stock Trade, With Late Ticker, Delays Final Table
WING to the very active session trading on the New York Stock Exchange, the ticker more than two hours behind the market, none of the final stock table was available for this edition today.

The complete table will appear in the Night Sports Special.

A Good Investment
is a precious thing. The Government estimate of $800,000,000 lost in this country annually through worthless securities emphasizes by contrast the fortunate position of the investor who owns a good, safe investment paying a reasonable income.

Since conditions vary, however, many investors find it well worth-while to have their lists analyzed regularly. A report from our Investment Service Department checking the status of each security by itself and of the list as a whole, with recommendations attached, gives an authoritative guide for improving your holdings.

FRAUD CHARGE AGAINST BANK EX-OFFICER FAILS

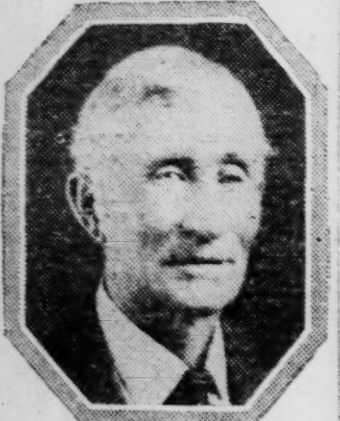

North Salem (Mo.) Man Cleared of Receiving Money at Insolvent Depository.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
BROOKFIELD, Mo., Nov. 20.—D. V. Mardis, former vice president and director of the defunct Farmers' State Bank of North Salem, and now a resident of Brookfield, was acquitted in the Caldwell County Circuit Court at Kingston, Thursday, of having received de-

KONJOLA RECEIVES PRAISE FROM ALL ST. LOUIS PEOPLE

Master Medicine Accomplishing Wonders Among Local Sufferers; Konjola Man Busy at Walgreen's Drug Store.

A promise of abundant health and deliverance from the common health troubles, was made by the Konjola Man when he first came to St. Louis from unusual successes at Indianapolis, Chicago, Louisville and other large centers of population. He has established his headquarters in the Walgreen Drug Store, 515 Olive street, where he is meeting personally all seekers after health and explaining the methods of Konjola and its merits. Volumes would be needed to carry all the voluntary endorsements of this medicine—an undeniable proof of its exceptional merits. Konjola is not a medicine of promises, claims or theories. It is one that brings results, accomplishments. At the very peak of its powers in cases that have defied all medicines and treatments, this sure-remedy goes to the seat of the ailment, strengthening and invigorating the ailing organs to a more normal, healthy action. What it has done for hundreds of others it will do for you as in the case of Mr. Will Esby, 462 West Commercial street, Springfield, Mo., who recently sent the following remarkable statement to the Konjola Man in this city:

"After six years of suffering there is not much hope left and yet Konjola came to me, revived my faith and restored my health," said Mr. Esby. "So I am making this statement in the hope that others will profit by my experience."

"For six years my health was in such a terrible condition that I was dwindling away to a physical wreck. Work became a drudgery and life a misery. Constant suffering from stomach trouble—numerous symptoms and sleepless nights were all a part of my life. The fermentation of food caused gas bloating. Cramping spells doubled me up in pain. My nerves became upset and my system run down. Ambition, energy and vigor vanished. During all the six years, I tried medicine after medicine, but they were a waste of money, time and energy. It seemed to me that there was no hope of relief and that I would go through the rest of my life the victim of a run-down and disordered system. It was a very discouraging outlook."

"Like a drowning man clutching at a straw I grabbed at the chance to give Konjola a trial. This medicine proved to be more than a straw, it gave me a strong foothold on the road to health. It was a 'red letter' day in my life when I started the treatment. Right from the start it benefited me. I hardly knew what was happening when my stomach became normal. Regular functioning of the ailing organs gave me renewed energy and strength. To think that this one medicine could accomplish all that the others had failed during six years, sounds almost unbelievable. Yet every word is the truth. I tried eating foods that never digested before and you can imagine my surprise when they digested perfectly. The gas bloating, cramping, spells and fermentation vanished as if by magic. My nerves became quiet and settled. Today, I am a well and happy man, freed of all ailments. It is all due to Konjola and I heartily advise all sufferers to give it a trial."

It is logical to believe that what Konjola has done for Mr. Esby it will do for you. You owe it to your self to give this medicine a trial. A visit to the Konjola Man will put you under no obligation. He is located at the Walgreen Three Store, 515 Olive street, St. Louis, where he is waiting the noble duty, introducing and explaining the merits of this remarkable modern medicine. Free samples given.

posits after he knew the bank was insolvent.
T. B. Burns of Brookfield and W. W. Davis of Chillicothe represented the defendant. C. A. Johnson, Prosecuting Attorney for Linn County, and J. D. Taylor of Keytesville, represented the State.

Two years ago, just before Mar-dis' bank was closed, he was found bound and gagged in the bank. Several thousand dollars were missing. He maintained robbers had entered the bank. The robbers were never caught.

The lawyers for the defense successfully contended that there was insufficient evidence against Mardis, and that in the failure of the bank he was one of the biggest losers.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH OUR RISING GENERATION?

As Told to Lillian G. Geun
By JOHN B. WATSON, PH. D., LL.D.
Editor Journal of Experimental Psychology

Dr. JOHN B. WATSON, the brilliant psychologist and founder of behaviorism, the new psychology, attributes the rebellious-ness of youth to the widespread denial of knowledge.
"No other age has had the radio, the telephone and the moving picture and such free literature as ours," he said. "It is an unprecedented condition. The result is that our youngsters have become too alert and too wise to continue in the prescribed way of living into which the adult forced them in the past. They have built up a questioning attitude toward everything—particularly the moral standards under which we are now living. No longer will they blindly follow the dictates of their parents.
They want to think for themselves, to question and to investigate. They want to test everything—even age-old traditions.
"That is why we find youth in the throes of an emotional rebellion. I for one cannot condemn them because I feel that out of this there will develop something constructive. Every rebellion in history has always been for the good of the succeeding generations.
And this one is in no way different.
"The truth is that the old ideas against which our youngsters are rebellious were all built upon a complete misunderstanding of human instincts and emotions, with but little idea of our mental processes. Until recently people knew almost nothing of the motives and dominant desires which go to make up the human being.

"Now that we know more about human nature, we find that many of the things that were considered sinful and harmful are no longer regarded as such. And so the new standards that we will form will not be the result of old wives' tales, traditions and customs, but because they have been tested and found sound."
Dr. Watson believes that the new psychology of behaviorism will help to decrease this moral lawlessness because it teaches the individual how to organize his life so that he will have no desire to break the laws of society.
"The very essence of behaviorism," he explained, "is that the right habits must be formed in children even before they are 3 years old. Then when the child grows into adolescence he will have found out how adequately to release the forces of his nature without sowing wild oats."

ETIQUETTE CHILD AND THE FACT OF DEATH

By Katharine de Peyster.

THE "THANK YOU" NOTE.
I AM to graduate this term and have already received many gifts. Will you please tell me what to write and thank the people in a way which is not "or-mal"? And what can I write to my boy friend to thank him in a very sweet way? Although I would like to surprise him by writing him a note of thanks when I write and thank the others.
L. E. S.
Well, well, well; I'm sure that a young lady about to be graduated will be able to write a much sweeter "note of thanks" than a personal note of thanks to these kind friends than an outsider would ever be able to suggest to her. Especially one who writes such a good note as you wrote to me.
However, maybe I could offer a few helpful general suggestions.
First, please let me be: you just to use pink paper. This just "sm" done, and you'll be never criticized. Next, use black ink or very dark blue.
Is the beginning of a note of thanks the "de" thing to do is to thank for the thoughtfulness,
the kindness, the sweet friendliness on the part of the sender of the gift. This makes the "thoughtfulness" what it should be—more important than the gift itself.
"How especially kind you were to me." "It was characteristically kind of you to think of me at graduation time, and I appreciate your dear thought with all my heart."
Then in the next part of the letter-of-thanks chat informally about the present. Name it—don't vaguely say, as some people do,
"your gift." It is a thing "whose simple doom is to be beautiful!"
Interpret that beauty, enthusiastically, artistically. If it is meant to be both beautiful and useful, you will have a particularly simple time making your friend know of your appreciation. In any event, keep in mind that the friend put into the gift thought and care and taste and money, and that he or she will appreciate your appreciation.

THE WEDDING DRESS.
SHOULD the train to my wedding dress be short or long, and should it be attached to the shoulders or to the waist?
BRIDE-TO-BE.
It is impossible to answer either question, dear lady, without knowing what style of dress you are planning.
The train to your wedding dress
may be short, medium or long, according to the style of your dress and according to your preference.
The train of "court length" is however, not worn except at the most formal wedding.
On the mode of the dress, too, depends whether the train is attached to the shoulder or to the waist. Either is correct, but some styles of dress "take" the shoulder-attached train better—and more comfortably—than the waist-attached train. But whether the train is attached to the shoulder or to the waist, it should, of course, be attached so that it can later be removed.
Often, you know, there is no
train of the material of the dress,
but only a long, full—"voluminous"
—train of the word—veil of tulle. And it can be made to give a wonderful effect of cloud-like loveliness.

Well Tuned
Don't economize on your piano tuning. Be sure that it is highly recommended and knows his business thoroughly. Even the best is not very expensive and to know the piano is getting expert care is certainly worth the difference.

Roast Beef.
Roast beef should always be served rare. Consequently it is as easy meat to serve a second time.
Instead of consigning it to hash
or serving it cold the second day, try cutting thick slices from it and broiling just long enough to heat through and brown. It is delicious and tastes not unlike porterhouse steak.

swathed hips and two long points touching the floor

lace is used by Chanel for the frock at center, with flesh-colored lingerie straps, flaring peplum, knee-

Woman Explorer First
Finder of Eels' Eggs
WOMEN are making discoveries for the world of science from finding the first eel's eggs to the capture of a live gaucharo.
Thirty-two L. members have been added to the Society of Women Geographers, of which Harriet Chalmers Adams of Washington is ident. From Central Africa to the Arctic these women have gone on their voyages of adventure and discovery. South America, Poland, China, Polynesia and the Himalayas have yielded up their secrets to the feminine invasion.
Among the new members are Mrs. Charles J. Fish of Buffalo, who has discovered the first eel's eggs known to science. She is a specialist on the early life history and distribution of fishes. Another new member, Miss Gloria Hollister of New York, a photographer of wild life, captured and brought to the United States from Trinidad
the first live specimen of the gaucharo.

Sazon!

Libby's
Chili
Con Carne

From the haciendas of Old Mexico—with their aristocratic grandes—their flowered patios—came the secret recipe for the rich "tangy" sauce in this famous Chili Con Carne.
Plump, tender Mexican Chili Beans—their skins bursting with goodness! Fine morsels of tender beef! And all blended together in the rich sauce of chili peppers and fragrant spices!
Here is something that will make you glad you're hungry—a dish that's "just right"—sazon!
Aspic thrill from Old Mexico—with a "kick"

THE DANGER LINE
DECAYED teeth and infected gums are largely unnecessary. There is a way to prevent them—a way to avoid the pain and the expense and the possible injury to general health that accompany them. And the way of prevention is so simple!
Guard The Danger Line. It is there that the acids form that cause the most treacherous tooth decay and the most dangerous gum irritations. Secure this protection by using Squibb's Dental Cream—a dentifrice which protects The Danger Line by neutralizing the acids there.
Squibb's Dental Cream contains more than 50% of Squibb's Milk of Magnesia, an amount ample to neutralize dangerous acids. Use Squibb's to brush the gums too.
As an added precaution consult your dentist regularly.
On sale at all druggists at 40c for a large tube.

for correct home heating
1. Regulation — 2. Circulation
They are basic. Scientists declare that correct home heating depends on them.
Regulation means controlled heat—a fire that burns neither too fast nor too slow, but at a steady, even, healthful temperature.
Circulation means distributed heat—comfort because the corners of your rooms are warmed as well as the center. Both mean, incidentally, the sort of efficiency which saves coal.
Both are essential features of the design of Charter Oak Parlor Furnaces.
In the long run, you won't be satisfied with less.

Catty Katrinka—By Gettier

"Years ago," says Catty Katrinka, "a cavewoman used to bean a jame and take her home senseless, and even today brides haven't any too much sense."

By CHARLES MACK.
Moran: Big Boy, What's a volcano?
Mack: Is you been readin' the newspaper again?
Moran: I is.
Mack: You's liable to die of overstudy.
Moran: What's that?
Mack: It's somethin' you get lookin' over a man's shoulder in a street car.
Moran: You must have a big education.
Mack: I sure has GOT it.
Moran: You MUST have it. You never give none away.
Mack: Well, Oscar, a VOLCANO is something what breathes smoke and flame.
Moran: That ain't a volcano. That's an EXHAUST.
Mack: It's an exhaust if you drives one of them volcano cars.
Now does you understand?
Moran: I understands pretty good.
Mack: In other words, you understands everything BUT the explanation.
